Wreck Crews Clear Tracks Of Penna. R. R.

Ten Loaded Ore Cars Are Derailed Near Montgomery Avenue

NO ONE INJURED IN FREIGHT PILE-UP

Traffic Was Being Detoured Over B. & O. During Morning Hours

Emergency crews of between 200 and 300 men labored today to restore normalcy to Pennsylvania railroad right-of-way operations near Montgomery avenue and the Mahoning river bridge, where a derailment of 10 loaded cars of a 59-car ore train last night resulted in one of the costliest wrecks the Pennsy has suffered locally in several years.

No one was hurt when the Conway yard-bound ore train out of Cleveland piled up almost accordion like, when one of its cars became derailed, just after passing the small passenger station west of the Mahoning river.

Wrecked Car Rips Bridge

The derailed car dragged down the right-of-way and through the railroad's Mahoning river bridge, damaging it considerably, while the nine cars following zig-zagged back and forth over the right-of-way and spilled ore over a long stretch of ground.

Pennsylvania officials here at noon said the cause of the derailment is unknown.

Superintendent Norman M. Lawrence was at the scene as were other division officials. They went to the scene as soon as they were notified of the accident. The wreck occurred near midnight.

Traffic over both the east-bound and west-bound main tracks was completely blocked by the wreckage, but the hard-working crews this afternoon were hoping to clear the line within a very short time.

Traffic Blocked, Detoured

Meanwhile, all Pennsylvania passenger and freight trains were being detoured over the main line of the Baltimore & Ohio.

The ore train, Extra 4246, eastbound, was being operated by a Cleveland division crew. The engineer was J. D. O'Leary and the conductor was E. S. Wolf, both Cleveland division men. The train had started at Cleveland and was heading toward the Conway yards.

The derailment came about 500 feet west of the Mahoning river bridge and the wreckage covered that distance to the bridge. The derailed car, swinging dangerously, crashed into the bridge itself, but did not plunge into the river. None of the cars did.

Wreck Crews Out Early

Wreck crew calls went out a few minutes after the cars left the rails. The Pennsy's own Cherry street wreck crew was called at 11:40 p. m. and at 12:10 the Erie railroad at Youngstown ordered its wreck crew out.

The forces have been busy since early morning.

While the extent of the damage will not be known for several days, Erie & Ashtabula division offices here said that the loss will likely mount to $20,000, excluding the damage to lading. The $20,000 includes the loss to the railroad's track, equipment and Mahoning river bridge.

RECOMMEND ADDITION TO COURT HOUSE

Recommending a three story addition to the court house on the south east corner, and the purchase of the Boyles property adjoining the court house, the June grand jury completed its work on Wednesday afternoon.

The three story addition is one intended to provide much needed office space in the court house and to bring in several offices that are now outside the county property and upon which the county is paying rent.

The purchase of the Boyles property has been advocated at numerous times before. These were the only recommendations the grand jury made. Forty two indictments were before the grand jury of which 39 were found to be true bills.

Hunt Trace Of Woman

Two-score police beat through the bushes surrounding the estate and hunted the grounds surrounding the mansion in vain for a trace of the missing woman.

William H. Parsons, her husband, immediately made preparations to contact the kidnapers at the bus terminal in Jamaica, N. Y. as directed in the ransom note.

He is a pigeon-fancier and chicken farmer, a nephew of Herbert L. Pratt, Standard oil mogul, and the son of the late William H. Parsons, militant crusader against obscenity and vice.

Three Executed In Michigan City, Indiana, First Triple Case In State's History

CINCINNATI FIRE CAPTAIN VICTIM

(International News Service)

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., June 10.—In the first triple execution in Indiana history, three men paid with their lives early today in the penitentiary electric chair for the gruesome "head and hands" murder of Harry R. Miller, retired well-to-do fire captain of Cincinnati.

The trio, who went to their deaths almost exactly a year following the murder of Miller on June 11, 1936, were William A. Kuhlman, 28 Frank Gore Williams, 39, and Joseph Poholsky, 35. They died in that order.

Only one, Kuhlman, spoke as he was led the 24 feet separating the death cells from the execution chamber. Turning to the other two, he said:

"Well, goodbye, boys."

Speedy Executions

Kuhlman went to the electric chair at 12:07 a. m. and was pronounced dead at 12:16. The executions were completed when Poholsky was pronounced dead at 12:38.

Twelve persons witnessed the executions. They were Warden Louis Kunkel, the Rev. John Roesler, a Catholic priest, the Rev. Robert Hall, prison chaplain, two physicians and seven prison attaches.

A tragic figure as she paid a last visit to Kuhlman, her brother, was Mrs. Caroline Browerman, former wife of Williams, a soldier of fortune. She declared Williams had led her brother into crime. Williams was visited in his cell by Betty Parron, Chicago night club singer.

Strike Clash In Youngstown

Tear Gas Used In Clash Near Republic Mill Entrance

LARGE NUMBER HURT IN BATTLE

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 10.—The national guard may be called out to maintain order in Youngstown and prevent further bloodshed, it developed here today.

A hastily convened conference of Mayor Lionel Evans, three Ohio national guard officers and Police Chief Carl Olsen was believed considering a request to the governor to that effect.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 10.—Two policemen were injured; a bystander shot, and scores of strike pickets gassed and clubbed in rioting which broke out at the gates of Republic Steel Corporation in the heart of downtown Youngstown shortly after midnight today.

Two steel armored truckloads of deputies put the rioting pickets to rout after a pitched battle lasting half an hour during which bullets flew and more than 100 rounds of tear gas were fired.

The battle took place beneath the Republic's Market street bridge, two blocks from Youngstown's central square.

Fourteen pickets, their bodies drenched with tear gas, were herded with their hands above their heads into the county jail where they received medical attention and were then locked up.

Many Injured

Three others were taken to hospitals and more than 30 others, none too seriously injured, escaped to their homes or some other haven to receive first aid and medical attention from private physicians.

This morning's trouble started after a truckload of food crashed through the rain-soaked and thinned out picket line at Republic's Market street gate. The rain had driven most of the pickets into shelter and only a handful were on

Graduate Large Class From Senior High Last Night

Exercises For 293 Seniors Take Place In Cathedral Auditorium

MUSKINGUM HEAD MAKES ADDRESS

Awards Are Given To Special Honor Group During Evening

Two hundred and ninety-three seniors filed across the platform of the Cathedral auditorium before a large community audience last night to receive diplomas from President Daniel B. Woolcock of the board of education at the 69th formal commencement exercises of Senior high school.

The diploma presentation came after President Robert N. Montgomery of Muskingum College at New Concord, O., had delivered an inspiring graduation message on, "The Mind of One Man," and after coveted and distinguished honor awards had been presented to outstanding seniors by representatives of civic and patriotic organizations and business firms.

When the last of the 293 diplomas had been handed out, Senior High school had bestowed in both the January and June commencements a total of 508 diplomas.

Large Audience

Rain held off last night long enough to allow a crowd to assemble in the Cathedral. The hall was well filled for the ceremony and the seniors themselves occupied the entire center section of the main floor.

Introduced early in the program by Superintendent of Schools C. C. Green as "the young and brilliant president of Muskingum," Dr. Montgomery, known here by many, paid tribute to the work of Horace Mann "the father of the schools," and stressed all the way through the important contribution he made to millions. His theme was "The Mind of One Man"—and he applied it to great men generally.

Denounces Work Of Hitler

He followed his praise of the contribution of the mind of Horace Mann with that of denunciation of the work of Chancellor Adolph Hitler of Germany.

"Some minds stand for good, some for ill," the Muskingum president asserted as he told the audience he believed Hitler to be an "unwise man."

Scoring the Nazi policies, he declared that "truth isn't welcome in Germany any more—your voice is only an echo if you teach or preach." He said he isn't unmindful of the fact that some good has been accomplished under Hitler's regime, adding "but at what a price!"

He told the audience that both Germany and Russia had effectively seized complete control of the educational machinery of those lands.

The address was a timely one, full of thought-provoking statements. Dr. Montgomery told the young men and women of the class that a speaker can no longer tell them that the world is waiting for them with open arms—and instead he brought them a practical address that can be applied and considered in the days that lie ahead.

Have Sense Of Responsibility

"What kind of a mind are you going to place in the world?" was the

SOVIET PURGE CONTINUES

Developments Are Presaged

Momentous Development Is Under Way In Soviet Russia Is Report

DENY REPORTS OF MILITARY REVOLT

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 10.—One of the most momentous developments since foundation of the Soviet regime may be underway in Russia today, according to diplomatic circles.

They declared the Red army purge and other developments in the U. S. S. R. may presage either establishment of a formidable military dictatorship or a serious revolt against the regime of Dictator Josef Stalin.

Revelations Expected

A Reuter dispatch from Moscow said revelations concerning the present army purge was expected within two or three days.

The dispatch declared foreign rumors of the danger of a military revolt are regarded in Moscow as completely untrue.

Disaffection among the Soviet military forces has not concerned the rank and file, the message pointed out.

Meanwhile, European capitals, foreign offices and general staffs watched with puzzlement and amazement as the military and industrial purge in the Soviet union continued.

Dispatches and comments in British newspapers indicated that all quarters expect the Soviet is on the eve of "important events."

Vienna, June 1.—Rumors that Josef Stalin, Soviet dictator, is desperately ill cropped up again today when the Vienna leftist newspaper Die Stunde reported that Dr. Hans Eppinger, famous internal cancer specialist, had been twice called to Moscow to see Stalin.

Dr. Eppinger had hardly returned from Moscow when he was summoned back yesterday to see Stalin, the newspaper said.

"The professor has gone east," was all that his office would say, confirming, at least, his absence.

control operators to flash a warning to squad cars to find the nurse.

Police picked up the young woman at a restaurant where she was waiting for Prentice to meet her as instructed by the kidnapers.

Prentice came to the Warren avenue police station after police had found Miss Montgomery. He said:

"I was a bit skeptical when I got Miss Montgomery's early call today. Ever since my grandfather died, people think I came into a lot of money.

"I was doubly suspicious when she told me to come alone. I didn't like the idea of being out alone at that time of the morning, driving around.

"That's why I called Miss Montgomery's room mate."

Receives Many Calls.

Prentice, who is 34, added.

"For the last week I have been receiving a number of mysterious telephone calls, but when I would go to the phone there would be no answer."

The nurse told police she had left the nurses' home at Presbyterian hospital shortly before midnight and while passing a dark alley nearby, two men seized her, forced a gag into her mouth and threw a sheet over her head. Then they forced her into a parked automobile. One told her:

"You won't be hurt unless you scream. Do what you're told and you will be all right."

According to the girl's story, the man continued:

"We want you to take a message to a mutual friend of ours, John R. Prentice. I have been laying for Prentice for several years because he disappointed my sister.

"We are using you to convey this message to him. Tell him:

"'You had better settle down.'"

The nurse said the men then told her they were going to put her out within walking distance of a telephone, and instructed her to call Prentice and tell him to drive there and pick her up. The kidnaper who did most of the talking said:

"After he picks you up have him drive you past Halsted and 22nd streets three times. That will be the signal that you've given him the message."

Miss Montgomery said she then was put out of the car, went to a nearby restaurant and called Prentice. While she waited police squads went there and picked her up.

Police said they later examined Prentice's car and found two automatic pistols in the side pockets. They took this to indicate the young man was in fear of being kidnaped.

Young Prentice is the son of E. Parmalee Prentice, once a corporation lawyer in Chicago, and Alta Rockefeller Prentice, the second daughter of the late oil king.

He attended Yale university where he worked as a telephone operator and won high scholastic honors. Today he said:

"The whole family has lived in fear of kidnaping. Often other members have received threatening letters. I never have received any.

"Kidnapers would never get any money out of me for the simple reason that I don't have any."

SABBATH SCHOOL WORKERS CONVENE AT THIRD CHURCH

er, chairman; Mrs. R. J. Fredericks, A. A. Webb, F. F. Yarian, Mrs. B. V. Carter, Guy Rainey and Mrs Grace Benford, submitted a number of resolutions for the consideration of the association.

Alarms was expressed at the increased amount of drunkenness, and the committee deplored the fact that the method of sale and distribution of intoxicating liquor is worse than the old saloon, and it was resolved that the association call upon the present administration, having pledged themselves to the repeal of the 18th amendment and having promised that the saloon should not be permitted to return, to keep their pledge. The sale of liquor in restaurants and the employment of young women as barmaids and waitresses in places where intoxicating liquor is dispensed was severely condemned, and absolute prohibition was proposed for the protection of the weak.

Drunken Drivers Menace.

Recognizing drunken drivers as a menace to public safety the committee called upon the lawmakers of the state to enact whatever laws may be necessary to eliminate this danger and they call upon the enforcement officers to be vigilant and show no leniency and little mercy.

Recognition of the judicial branch of our government as a necessity if we would continue as a stabilized democracy was acknowledged, and that insofar as possible, it was recommended that it should be kept free from political interference. The committee stated that it believed it to be a serious mistake for any political party, no matter how popular, to use the threat of making radical changes in the personnel of the supreme court to keep this body from declaring their legislative program unconstitutional; that whatever change it may be deemed necessary to make, should be gradual instead of revolutionary; that promiscuous criticism of this body breeds disrespect for law and is detrimental to sound government.

Aware of the growing conflict between Fascism and Communism and feeling that the peace of the world is threatened and our civilization threatened, it was resolved that the members of all churches should be called upon to combat this evil with increased religious fervor.

Seek Peace.

Feeling that war threatens and settles nothing, it was resolved that the church schools of the county do all in their power to interpret Jesus, the Prince of Peace, and that Christian people be urged to pray daily for the peace of the world.

It was held that marriage is sacred and resolved that all those would enter this sacred relationship should consider well before taking this important step.

Believing that the Heavenly Father knows what is best for man, and since he set aside one day in seven for rest and worship, it was resolved that as Christian people, the members should seek earnestly to observe this day in the proper manner; to attend Bible school, and at least one worship service, and that during the remainer of the day, they continue to honor Christ in whose name the day is observed.

Give Commendation

City and county officers were commended for every effort to enforce the laws against liquor, vice, and gambling, and pledged the hearty cooperation of the association.

Appreciation was expressed to the New Castle News for their continued refusal to publish liquor advertisements, and that similar action be urged upon the rest of the press and the radio.

The efforts of the officers and executive committee was commended; appreciation was expressed for the program arranged for the convention; and gratitude was expressed to the Third U. P. church for the use of the building and the courtesies extended the convention.

MICHIGAN POWER STRIKE IS ENDED

closed Newton Steel Company mill at Monroe.

The governor was scheduled to meet with representatives of the steel company and its striking employes in Lansing at noon.

Fraught With Peril

At Monroe the situation was fraught with peril. An overt act might provoke violence. The mayor, Daniel A. Knaggs, after issuing a call for volunteers "with military experience," had sworn in nearly 100 civilians to augment the police force on strike duty.

Officials of the Newton company, which is allied to the Republic Steel Corporation, had intended to re-open the plant at 8 o'clock this morning. But, in view of the governor's conference at noon in Lansing, deferred resumption of operations until 4 p. m.

Settlement of the strike of employes of the Consumers Power Company saved Flint, Saginaw, Bay City and other communities from a night of darkness. These communities had experienced the paralyzing affect of the shutting off of power.

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.— The Braddock-Louis world's championship battle, scheduled to be fought before a $1,000,000 gate at Chicago the night of June 22, today successfully hurdled its last legal barrier.

The last obstacle was removed when the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, in a two to one opinion written by Judge John B. Biggs, refused to grant an injunction prohibiting the champion from entering the ring to defend his crown against Joe Louis.

Although Mrs. Moore had been ill upon her arrival here from California in April, 1936, and underwent hospitalization for some time, she had improved considerably and her sudden death today was most unexpected.

STRIKE CLASH IN YOUNGSTOWN

hand when the truck, preceded by a city police scout car, came hurtling down the ramp from the bridge to crash through the unguarded gates.

First Serious Outbreak

It was the first serious outbreak in the Youngstown district in the present walkout of close to 80,000 steel workers which has tied up the mammoth steel plants of the Republic Steel Corp., the Youngstown Sheet and Tube, and Inland Steel.

The violence occurred soon after Gov. Martin L. Davey waved the branch of peace by summoning the antagonists in the seven-state strike to a peace parley set for Friday and coincidentally with the threat of a serious general strike in Youngstown.

Both Republic and the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company late yesterday accepted the invitation of Gov. Martin L. Davey to attend a peace conference in Columbus tomorrow.

Neither Tom M. Girdler Republic board chairman, nor Frank Purnell will attend the meeting in person. Republic will send J. A. Voss, labor relations director, while Sheet & Tube has not named a representative.

General Strike Threat

Youngstown, O., June 10.—Threat of a general strike hung over this steel city of 170,000 today in the wake of a pitched battle between strike pickets and city and county police.

The powerful chauffeurs' and truck drivers' union, controlling all commercial deliveries in the city, passed a resolution threatening a city-wide tieup if Sheriff Ralph Elser of Mahoning county interfered with picketing of the steel mills.

Police Chief Charles Olson of Youngstown ordered the entire police force on 12 hour emergency duty, effective today. All vacations and leaves were cancelled.

The action came after Sheriff Elser had announced he was about to enroll as deputies members of a "citizens' committee"—"to maintain order"—and announced he was prepared to enroll 10,000 additional deputies if necessary.

Conciliator Enroute

Washington, June 10.—James F. Dewey, chief labor conciliator, is enroute to the mid-west steel strike area today to observe conditions for the labor department. He was in Pittsburgh today.

Dewey's efforts to arrange a meeting between the independent steel producers and the CIO leaders have thus far proved unsuccessful.

It must embarrass a newly-appointed Supreme Court Justice when the Senate starts looking for the strings on him.

Five States Represented At McClelland Gathering

Mark Twain may have been right when he said "East is East, and West is West, but Never Twain Shall Meet," however, the statement was contradicted Wednesday evening, when both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts were represented, as well as five states in the Union, at a gathering of the McClelland clan in the D. C. McCelland home on Knox avenue.

The event was most unusual, inasmuch as there were out of town relatives present from Warren, O., ten in number, four from East Liverpool, three from Beaver, one from Colorado, two from California, and one from Connecticut. Forty two guests in all attended, the others being from New Castle and vicinity.

Most of those present were near relatives of David and Mary Stewart McClelland, former well known residents of the Scotland Lane district. After a sumptuous picnic dinner on the lawn at 6:30, there was a delightful program with Mrs. Scott McClelland, of Orange, Cal., presiding as toastmistress.

The following toasts were proposed with interesting responses: "Our Great Grandparents, Robert and Jean Alexander, of County Down, Ireland." Their ristory was related by Dr. Edith Sloan, of East Liverpool, O., who told of the early home in Schenectady, N. Y., about 1820. A son David McClelland came to Pittsburgh and worked in the mills there for awhile after which he moved to New Castle while still a young man. He married Mary Stewart, who was born, married and celebrated her golden wedding, all in the same house which still stands in good condition, near Scotland Lane.

The next toast was to "Our Grandparents," which was given by the oldest grandson present, George R. McClelland, who resides on Pine street. "Our Brothers and Sisters" were enumerated by Mrs. Rebecca McClelland Lewis, of Greeley, Colo., the only one of eleven brothers and sisters able to attend. Mrs. Etta Peebles Davies, of San Francisco, Cal., told about "Our Aunties," J. I. McClelland About "Our Cousins," Wylie McClelland, "The Children," Roy W. McClelland, "The Bachelors" (of whom there only two in the big family connection.)

"The In-Laws" Edward Jones, of this city; "The Cooks" George Gregg; "From the Standpoint of a Guest," Mrs. Minnie Speer Marshall, of Bridgeport, Conn., (who by the way has just returned from the world's W. C. T. U. convention in Washington, D. C., at which 36 nations were represented.)

Before the evening's reunion was concluded, the group decided to form a permanent organization and the following officers were elected: George R. McClelland, president; Roy McClelland, vice president; Mrs. Pearl McClelland, secretary-treasurer; Eeanor Craig historian.

EFFICIENCY ON THE DIAMOND

AND now a university press agent from Florida comes along with a plan whereby the average baseball game can be played in 70 minutes.

The idea is to eliminate warm-up pitches, ban the handling of the ball by the infield after a put-out, permit temporary substitution of catchers between innings and require teams taking the field to run to their positions.

It may be doubted, however, if the average fan would welcome such innovations. And certainly the players, particularly those earning a living at the pastime, would frown upon an attempt thus to employ the tactics of an efficiency expert on the diamond.

Baseball, to be most enjoyed by spectators and players, must be a relatively leisurely proposition. It is not true here, as in some other forms of human activity, that the best exhibition is the one conducted with a maximum of hustle-and-bustle and a minimum of time.

UP TO THE BRITISH DOMINIONS

It is not surprising to learn from London dispatches that the adoption of the proposed Anglo-American trade agreement will depend largely on the attitude of the self-governing members of the British Commonwealth of Nations. This subject was not on the program of the Imperial Conference, but representatives of the British government took occasion to discuss it with the Dominion Prime Ministers. It is reported that they were not over-enthusiastic.

Farmers in Australia, South Africa and other countries under the British flag are opposing any concessions for benefiting Anglo-American trade at their expense. This development provides an illustration of the difficulties that may arise from the comparatively new political independence of the members of the British family of nations, coupled with their economic interdependence and insistence that all shall act together for their common welfare.

HEALTHY RETAIL CREDIT

Unmistakable advance toward prosperity lies behind the recent report of the National Retail Dry Goods Association that this year's credit sales will almost equal those of 1929 when buying was at its peak.

Surely no further evidence is needed to show the extent of business improvement, as healthy credit conditions such as now exist indicate widespread confidence in a continued economic upturn.

Barring abuse of the installment feature of purchasing, which of course would seriously limit later consumer demand, the outlook seems exceptionally rosy in the retail field, with the way open for all normal and legitimate enterprise to prosper.

The one discouraging feature is that of destructive warfare between labor and capital. Granted a spirit of cooperation instead of constant bickering and strife, America is destined to keep on heading toward steadily improved conditions including higher wages, re-employment and business activity all along the line.

THE "HUMAN SIDE" OF WAR

News pictures in the last few weeks have told volumes about the Spanish Civil War. The pictures were not of soldiers fighting for Bilbao or of war lords mapping new offensives.

The pictures were from behind the lines, so far behind that the roar of the cannon was a faint thunder over the horizon. They were of the women and children huddled in each others' arms, finding refuge in caves, standing in line for meager rations.

They are the true sufferers of armed conflict, powerless to prevent it, sometimes wondering why ambitious men are willing to sacrifice home and family for the sake of an ideal which an equal number of other men hold wrong.

The Spanish Civil War has progressed to the point where suffering is becoming the accepted lot of thousands. Food supplies are running low for those whose homes have already gone up in the fierce bombardment.

When will be the finish? Should it come tomorrow, it will be too late to remove the stain of war from the consciousness of those who have not battled the enemy, but the fear and starvation which lurk behind the lines.

STORY OF THE FLAG

The United States flag dates back to June 14, 1777. On that June day 160 years ago, congress passed a resolution providing the present arrangement of stars and stripes. As states have been added to the union, the 13 original white stars have become 48. It is a glorious constellation of free commonwealths, every one of which has fine institutions and a good chance for progress and development.

The flags of many nations show little variety of design. The flag of France, for instance, consists of three solid stripes of blue, white, and red, running up and down. It has stirred French valor on a thousand fields of battle, but as an aesthetic picture it is not so fine.

The United States flag, with its narrow red and white stripes, its white stars on a blue field, has a beautiful variety and contrast of color. Those bright shining stars in the blue ground might be taken as a symbol of the canopy of heaven, suggesting the ideals that have been created by the founders of our country, and which it is our duty to maintain.

When people are traveling in foreign lands, the sight of that flag brings thoughts that are cheering and comforting of home. Also it suggests the idea of protection, telling how a powerful government protects its people wherever they go.

Innumerable soldiers who had felt dismayed amid the terrors of battlefields, have been nerved to patriotic duty by the sight of the flag. Such inspiration should not be limited to war and battle.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh writes from his home in England on crime in the United States: "America's crime problem must be solved before we can claim to have developed a satisfactory system of government."

NEW YORK—Thomas J. Watson, president of the International Business Machine Company, returns from abroad and comments on a liklihood of war: "There is not as much discussion about war in Europe as there is here. No country is thinking of starting a war."

NEW YORK—H. B. Pearson, retired Los Angeles insurance broker, debunks dangers of Africa after exploration trip: "Explorers have a natural, human tendency to exaggerate the dangers of the African veldt. It makes a better story that way. But as a matter of fact, it is safer in Africa than on Fifth Avenue."

TIPS FOR STUDENTS

AT THE REQUEST of a number of high school and college teachers, I am running again my "Tips for Students."

1. Keep in good shape physically. Take exercise, get the right food, and have plenty of sleep. Correct defective vision. Check your hearing. Have your teeth examined. Consult a physician if you lack energy or otherwise seem to be lacking in health.

2. Endeavor to have a definite place and time for study. Get away from the radio and family conversation. Have a good light so adjusted that it does not shine in your eyes.

3. Don't let yourself daydream. Especially, pay attention to everything said and done in class. Hold yourself responsible for every question asked in class, and check the correctness of response you would have given. Get the assignment carefully without any thought of asking later what it is. By paying strick attention in class you can save time and study out of class.

4. Get your work in on time. When an assignment covers several days or weeks in advance, budget your time so that you will get your work completed when it is due. Avoid the "putting off" habit.

5. Learn to take notes both in and out of class. But cover only essential points. Write notes in your own language briefly by boiling down the many words you hear and read in a few words of your own. Practice taking and recalling mental notes.

6. Improve your reading habits. Read for ideas rather than for words. When you read from a text book, read the entire selection through. Reread essential parts and translate them into your own language. Bold type and paragraph headings will often help you to do this. Learn to summarize paragraphs in a sentence of your own. You do not know something until you can tell it in your own words.

Work Hard

7. Discipline yourself to "bone", to master the few facts and symbols you will have to know. Things worth learning are worth remembering.

8. Be honest. Do not deceive yourself and your teacher by handing in work of others as your own. Every effort to win passing grades by deceit spoils your habits of work and robs you of self-reliance.

9. Budget your time at home and at school. The better you can use your free time at school, the ess you will have to do at home.

10. If you have no special assignment for a certain evening, use that time for work on one of the longer assignments due later. If you have no such long assignments, use the study hour for profitable reading. Habits of mental work are best kept alive when regularly exercised.

11. Select one evening out of your week-end for study, and discipline yourself to stick to it. Otherwise you will easily form the habit of letting all three evenings slip by with the result that you are unprepared Monday.

12. Before beginning work on any assignment, review briefly the last lesson or last several lessons.

MY FRIEND SMILES ON ME

I COME into this little room, and sink wearily into my chair. . . At the moment I am not happy. I have lost my temper again and I am ashamed. My head aches and my nerves are ragged. Life and its problems are a bit too much for me and I wonder what other men do at such time. . . . .I put my elbows on the desk and hold my head in my hands and close my eyes. I shall wait here a little while, to see what happens.

But nothing does and I open my eyes again. And as I do, they fall upon a picture on my wall. . . . It is a photograph of my friend, of that wisest, strongest, kindest, most deeply understanding human being I have ever known. . . . He smiles tenderly upon me, as he did in life, and his kind eyes are healing . . . and they shame me from my little surrender.

It is always thus. When I look upon that face, I remember his long, strong life. I remember his battles, his defeats, his victories. I remember the weaknesses he overcame. I remember his courage. I remember his gentle strength. I remember his sadness, his comforting smile, I remember his strong hand upon my shoulder and how much his friendship meant to me.

And my little moment of bitterness seems like treason to me. Not treason to him, to our friendship. But treason to life itself, to those I love, to those who love me, to all upon whom I depend or who depend upon me. Treason to knowledge, to experience, to growth, to wisdom, to beauty, to whatever I am and whatever I hope to be. To the challenge of today, to the hope of tomorrow, to the promises of yesterday and the responsibilities of the future. . . . My friend who is gone speaks gently to me and reminds me, not of him, but of myself—and I rise from my chair and walk, reborn, from this little room. . . . I thank him with all my heart for reminding me that I am a man and a man has a job to do every day of his life.

"Got enough mules?" the Beach man asked.

"Yassuh, fo'. Names Babtis', Meth'dis', Presbytarium an' 'Piscopalium."

"What's the idea," Jenkins asked. The negro grinned.

NO WHISKERS

In the not far-distant past it was customary for men to be whiskered and one can easily understand why. It was too difficult to mow off the fuzz; it was a task of endurance.

But along came the safety razor and behold the whiskers are out. Today there are various styles and makes and new developments in this field of shaving. It is an industry built upon whiskers.

Somebody estimates that a man shaves an area of 48 square inches; that the average number of whiskers on this area is 25,000, which seems to us a bit excessive, although we have never counted them. The average growth of each whisker in 24 hours is one-hundredth of an inch, so the average face produces 250 inches of whiskers daily, which we again feel is exaggerated, but we can offer no proof to the contrary.

Multiply this by the number of men shavers in the United States, say 45,000,000, and it is found a daily crop of 150,000 miles of whiskers is produced over an area of 375 acres of faces.

So it is no wonder that shaving is big business for razor and blade manufacturers, soaps and creams and lotions. All raised on a hair; a keen example of how modern progress gives us an industry that did not exist at all a few decades ago.

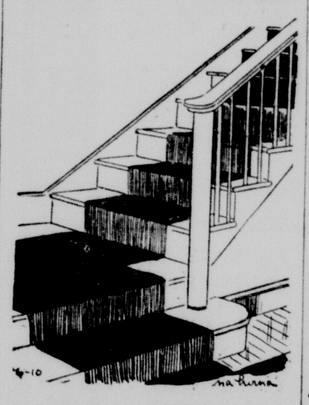
Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Pat. Office.



By Francine Markel

DEAR MISS MARKEL—Should stairs be left bare or covered with carpet? I personally prefer covered stairs but have been told that they are very "gay ninetyish." Is this so? Mrs. J. J. J.

Answer—Since modest homes have wooden staircases, I presume yours has also. And wooden stairs may be carpeted or left bare, as you wish.

It is, indeed, not in the least "gay ninetyish" to have a runner of carpet. In fact, a great many modern decorators recommend covered stairs.

Marble and tile stairways look decidedly more attractive uncovered.

DEAR MISS MARKEL—I am putting French doors between my living and dining rooms. What should I put on them—shades or curtains? A DAILY READER.

Answer—Do not place shades on your French doors. Decorate them in net glass curtains held in place with a rod at the top and the bottom of each door.

Inside doors, such as yours should, of course, have no over-draperies. Those leading out to a veranda usually have over-draperies, especially during the Winter season.

Japanese Work Under Strain.
Have Nineteen-Hour Day.
Britain Views United States.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

WE READ IN "The Living Age", a magazine which gathers opinion from all over the world, some interesting views. Here is one:

"A disciplined and hardy people, low wages, long hours and efficient factories enable Japanese industry to compete successfully in foreign markets despite high tariff walls. Although Japan's exacting factory system has been running at high speed for less than a decade, the effects of strain on the workers are beginning to cause alarm. We quote an editorial from the Japanese Weekly Chronicle:—

"'There is some hope of a 12-hour day. Osaka factory statistics recently revealed that in a few works a 19-hour day is now customary, while the majority run to 16-hour schedule. The home ministry is now taking notice of this tendency to sweat the labor, and is alarmed at the quite evident decline in workers' health. Conscription examinations show that the physique of primary school graduates passing direct into industry is markedly inferior to that of those who have continued their education, while the increase in factory accidents testifies to the strain imposed by long hours. In 1933 industrial accidents brought death to 354 workers, and injuries to 41,549. In 1934 the figures jumped to 621 dead and 56,618 injured. No later official figures are available, but it is known there has been a still more alarming increase.'"

JAPAN "FEARS" BRITAIN

Here is another:

"Certain Japanese circles are concerned over the energy with which Great Britain is strengthening her defenses at Hong Kong and the activity of British interests in South China. The Nippo, a Japanese paper published in Shanghai has denounced Great Britain's 'monopolistic grip' on South China as 'a distinct threat to the peace of the Orient'; the Shanghai Mainichi advises Britain 'to make Japan the watchdog of her interests in China'!"

A BRITON SEES US

Says M. J. Bonn in the London Spectator:

". . . A new American state is being made which will function efficiently and will enable America to cope with the problems of the future. The United States is quickly gaining on the European nations, who will until now have been far in advance of her."

A NAZI DEMAND

Then, "The Living Age" presents us with this news item from the Soviet newspaper, Izvestia:

"The German-Polish friendship is often clouded over by various little disagreements. Recently Poland decided to decorate her pavilion in the Paris exposition with the busts of six Poles famed in the field of politics and science, among them the Polish astronomer Copernicus. The Nazi press retorted with very acid editorials in which they attempted to prove that Copernicus was a German and that, although he lived in the Polish town of Torun, he always was 'an ardent German patriot'.

"'In the interests of the German-Polish rapprochement,' wrote the Volkischer Beobachter in a sinister mood, "it is desirable that the bust of Copernicus should not appear in the Polish pavilion at the Paris exposition.'"

IN ALMERIA

But the most poignant article that this writer has found recently is one on "Refugees in Southern Spain" in The Manchester, England, Guardian Weekly.

The first part of it is concerning the city of Almeria, which was bombarded by a German fleet. This article was written prior to that bombardment, before any such thing as that even was dreamed of. We read:

"One of the difficulties of working for refugees in Spain is that they are an extremely fluctuating population. At first the fleeing Malagans were massed at Almeria, the next large port on the south coast. Here at one time 120,000 men, women and children were gathered, most of them destitute. I talked to Miss Violetta Thurstane, of the University Ambulance unit, who had arrived there the day after they did and had opened a feeding station for the children—the first international aid that was brought to them—and then installed two beautiful, white-painted, gay little hospitals for children, each with some dozen beds and a trained English staff.

"Miss Thurstane told me that the conditions were extremely bad at first, though the authorities had made a brave attempt to cope with them and had kept the hungry hordes from absolute starvation. Now, two months after the fall of

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE WAY OF POLITICS

David Sholtz, former Governor of Florida and present Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks, is an affable, well-met person, who appreciates all that has been done for him. Especially appreciative is he of the loyal and efficient service rendered him by his assistants when he occupied the No. 1 position in Florida.

In his genial way and with great sincerity he tells of the flooding and ebbing of esteem which certain office seekers have towards an executive during a four-year term.

In substance, he says that during the first year with many jobs at his disposal, the executive is a King. Nothing in the way of deference is too much for him. Kowtowing and apple polishing are the order of the day. The second year brings a diminishing degree of fealty and respect. The sun of popularity is beginning to set for the executive. He is demoted to the rank of a Prince.

By the time the third year rolls around the jobs are pretty scarce, so the executive is lowered to the status of a "Quince". And the fourth year—well, during the fourth year, the office seekers are busy developing the strength of the executive's successor, so he is hardly recognized at all. If he gets any rating, it is generally of the unprintable kind.

And so it goes. But after the executive has retired from office he begins to recoup glory, respect and appreciation. Even the disappointed office seeker admits the executive was pretty good after all.

GRACIOUS ME!

Was ever such a heedless child?
Gracious me!
Indoors, outdoors, running wild!
Gracious me!
Tears the buttons off his shirt;
Smeared from head to foot with dirt,
And forever getting hurt,
Gracious me!

Seems he's hungry all the time!
Gracious me!
Begging: "Can I have a dime?"
Gracious me!
Lost his new hat yesterday.
Now his coat has gone astray.
It's no wonder that I say:
Gracious me!

Just the image of his dad!
Gracious me!
What a care his mother had!
Gracious me!
Says he raced about just so
In his childhood long ago.
How she stood it I don't know!
Gracious me!

I suppose she used to say,
Gracious me!
Fifty, sixty times a day,
Gracious me!
Now he's up to something new.
Like his dad! If that be true,
I'll be proud and happy, too.

Today's Yesterdays—June 10, 1610—The first Dutch landed on the site of what was to become New York City, members of a party led by Adriaen Block and Hendrick Christiansen who had come over in the wake of the exploring expedition of Henry Hudson to trade with Amerindians for furs.

The greatest city in the world was founded by accident! Block's vessel was wrecked at Manhattan Island, and a fort was constructed to house the crew while another ship was being built to take them home. The Dutch had no intention of establishing a settlement at the time; only later they became aware of the strategic location of the island.

June 10, 1762—Benjamin Franklin, by his kite experiment, showed that the lightning produced in the clouds is a form of electricity. Goldman Heads Hospital Plan

A. J. Goldman Will Be In Charge Of New Castle Group Hospitalization Plan

A. J. Goldman, formerly connected with one of the local banks has been appointed a representative of the New Castle Hospital in charge of the Group Hospitalization Plan of the institution.

The plan enables the subscriber to receive adequate hospital care when he needs it, without the usual burden of expense. The subscription fee—less than two cents a day—provides, in effect non-transferable, paid in advance hospital service for a definite period each year.

If a person could know in advance when he would need hospital care, he could save to meet the expense. But illness and injury come unexpectedly. Paying an unforseen hospital bill individually may be a real hardship.

Wherever the Group Hospitalization plan has been tried it has proven a great success.

College 'Who's Who' Honors Miss Metzler

Park Avenue Girl, Graduate Of Westminster, Paid High Tribute

Miss Mary Jane Metzler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Metzler, 409 Park avenue, who received a diploma from Westminster college Monday, has been signally honored in the national college "Who's Who" which brings recognition to the leaders of America's colleges and universities.

The volume, carrying biographies of students representing 400 institutions, lists all of Miss Metzler's activities. She was chosen for the honor by an unprejudiced committee at Westminster, the very same way every student is selected.

Students are not selected for scholarship alone, but because of their record in extra-curricula activities, athletics and future possibilities.

Miss Metzler, who served as president or some other officer of various college groups through her four-year course, enjoys swimming, hockey, tennis and bicycling as hobbies. She plans to teach social science or to take up department store personnel work.

"'We have moved most of them,' the head of the refugee committee told me. 'Almeria is not a suitable place for them. We lack every kind of food—there is no sugar, nor milk, nor coffee, and little flour. In Almeria itself there are orange trees and vines and date palms, and the sugar cane even grows nearby, but there is no hinterland.' I told him that the day before I had come through the parched and bladeless 'mountains of the moon' that hem Almeria in to the north—so that I knew what he meant. 'In the old days we imported a great deal of our food,' he went on, 'but now ships come in rarely and there is increasingly less to eat here, so we could not do with an extra population. Now we have got the numbers down to four or five thousand, and even these should diminish.'

". . . A man (from Malaga—captured by the Fascists) showed me a scar, a wound from a bomb dropped from an airplane, and his face, which at first had been patient and sad, became distored with rage as he told me how he had seen the pilot of the airplane fly low so he could shoot the women and children with a machine gun. He and his family had escaped through hiding in the reeds."

Dr. W. E. McClure Will Be Heard At Bible Conference

Former New Castle Minister To Participate In Slippery Rock Services

A former New Castle pastor, Dr. Walter McClure, is to be one of the speakers on the program of The Western Pennsylvania Bible Conference at Slippery Rock, which will be in session from June 20 to 27. Since leaving the First Presbyterian church in this city Dr. McClure has been pastor of the Presbyterian church of the Covenant in the city of Detroit. While here he was one of the founders and directors of the Bible Conference which meets in his brother's church in Slippery Rock.

Other speakers who will appear this year are Dr. Henry Ostrom of the Extension Department of the Moody Bible Institute, Dr. A. H. Stewart of Racine, Wisconsin, and O. Vansteenberghe of Belgium. The music will be in charge of Professor and Mrs. H. W. Carlson of New York.

This conference will observe its ninth annual session this year. It has grown in popularity from the beginning. The directors are convinced that they will have to provide larger quarters in the near future.

A notice of change in the last day of registration for the September primary has been received in the registration commission office. September 1 has been designated as the last day upon which a voter can register and not August 14, as announced before.

Two Ohio lassies were in the corridor of the court house Wednesday morning looking for the humane officer. After being directed to the office one of the girls was asked facetiously if somebody had been beating her horse.

"I'm the horse," she said, 'and I got the beating. My husband lives in New Castle now but he was in the habit of beating me. I want a divorce."

It was explained to her that a libellant or petitioner for a divorce must have been a resident of Pennsylvania for not less than two years past in order to be eligible to apply for a divorce. It was also explained that humane officers dealt with cruelty to animals and not to wives.

Judge W. Walter Braham is hoping that he will be improved sufficiently by Monday morning to take his place on the bench of court room number two. He has been in the Jameson Memorial hospital suffering from sciataca but is much improved.

Attorney Walter S. Reynolds is still in the Jameson Memorial hospital and is in none too good shape.

Custodian Clifford James is busy this week seeing that the two court rooms are in apple pie order for the criminal court which starts next Monday morning. From the appearance of the indictment lists the court should not last two weeks, if both court rooms operate.

With a true bill returned against Angelo Pedonesi and Sam Traci on charges of involuntary manslaughter it would not be surprising if a hearing was held on the theory of "autre fois acquit" which means that the defendant has already been acquitted of the crime with which he is charged.

Both of the men were acquitted in March on the charge of murder and manslaughter arising out of the death of Policeman Robert H. Dukes. After the acquittal they were re-arrested on the charge of involuntary manslaughter they protested the arrest, through their counsel, basing their protest on the theory of "res adjudicata" which means that the issue has been adjudicated. This was refused by the court.

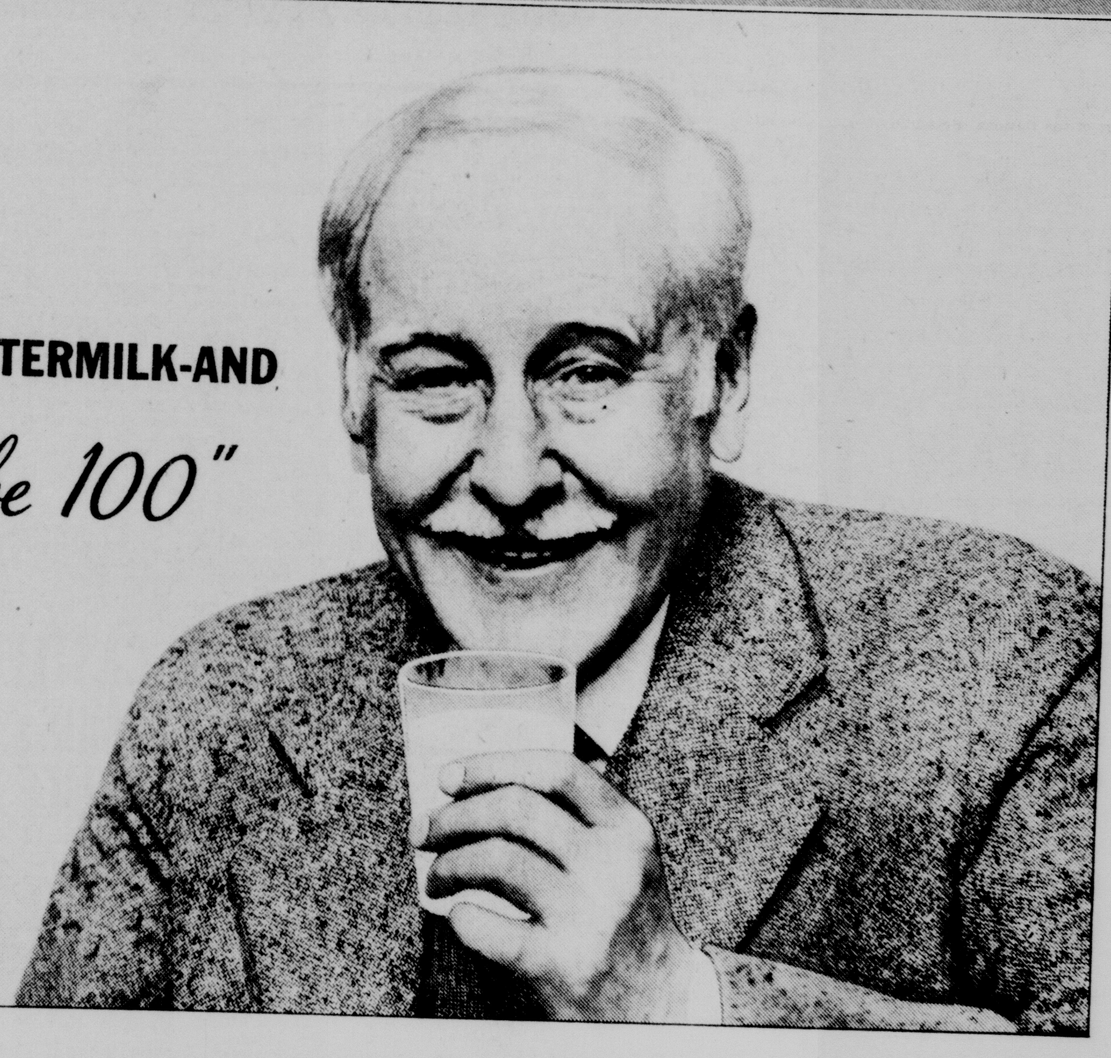
"DRINK BUTTERMILK-AND live to be 100"



That was an old saying of our grandparents. And modern scientists agree that buttermilk does have a beneficial effect. It is highly digestible, and it aids in the digestion of other foods. It contains the same valuable minerals as milk.

Won't you try an experiment for just one month? Every day drink two glasses of Rieck's Sealtest Buttermilk. We promise you the finest buttermilk you've ever tasted. But you'll notice something else, too . . . a keener appetite . . . an improved digestion.

You're never too young—or too old—to begin this delightful and beneficial habit. Telephone New Castle 2500, order from your Rieck's Sealtest milkman, or ask at your favorite store for Rieck's Sealtest Buttermilk—the only New Castle buttermilk that is produced fresh, clean and pure, under the constant supervision and control of the Sealtest System of Laboratory Protection.

"ROSES" TOPIC FOR EAST SIDE CLUB GROUP

June, the month of brides and roses, prompted the program theme for East Side Garden Club members, when they met in the home of Mrs. Earl McKnight, on Adams street, their topic centering entirely on "Roses." With this in mind, every member in attendance, brought some variety of roses to the meeting. Peonies and Iris decorated the rooms throughout, in addition to an abundance of roses.

Mrs. Fred Remley, as first on the program, contributed an interesting paper on the subject, "Garden of Fragrance." In conclusion, she gave a poem entitled, "The Use of Flowers," by Mary Hewitt. Second to take part, was Miss Anna Dietterele, and she chose for her topic, "Plans For the Shady Garden." Both papers were excellent, and provided much for the discussion that ensued.

A business meeting was later conducted when a bird pilgrimage was arranged for Tuesday, June 15, to Gaston Park. The women will make this jaunt at 6 o'clock in the morning and have breakfast at this picturesque center. A family party is also being discussed the details to be announced.

In August, a flower show will be conducted with the following committee in charge: Mrs. Harry Sturdevant, general chairman, Mrs. W. R. McKnight and Mrs. Fred Remley.

Hitler Is Ready To Startle World By Danzig Move

(International News Service)

BERLIN, June 10.—Reports that Chancellor Hitler is ready to startle the world with a sudden move regarding the free city of Danzig, one of Europe's most dangerous "powder kegs", kept diplomatic circles in a fever of excitement today.

The reports said the chancellor probably would make a speech at Marienwerder, East Prussia, Saturday, June 19. It was pointed out Hitler frequently has chosen Saturdays for his most spectacular coups in the foreign field in the past.

The reports were not confirmed, but other advices said 600 high Nazi officials, making their annual trip to East Prussia, might stop at Marienwerder, near Danzig, "around the middle of the month".

N. CASTLE MAN SAYS "I GOT ALMOST UNBELIEVEABLE RELIEF FROM VENDOL"

Mr. Clark of Euclid Ave., suffered terribly for years from gas, bloating, indigestion, became very weak and nervous, due to constipation. Now Vendol has given such relief says it's hard to believe.

MR. W. A. CLARK

Since the great Root, Herb and Alkaline medicine Vendol was introduced here in New Castle by the Vendol Man, through New Castle Drug Co., thousands of the leading men and women here and from nearby towns have come forward telling of the astonishing relief they have gotten from it. One of the latest is Mr. W. A. Clark residing on Euclid Ave., who says:

"For the last three years I have been suffering terribly with indigestion, gas pains and bloating. After meals I'd belch up a hot, burning liquid which often contained little particles of undigested food. The gas was so bad at times it made my heart palpitate and breathing hard. My stomach often bloated so much that I was horribly uncomfortable.

"I often felt dizzy, my tongue was coated, breath bad, spots danced before my eyes and every morning I awakened with a vile taste in my mouth. I lost my appetite and often had nervous headaches.

"Constipation was causing all my troubles, so reading what a fine medicine Vendol was, I got some and a box of Vendol laxative tablets, and that was the first step in getting back my health. Vendol relieved my constipation the finest you ever saw and now I never have any indigestion, gas, sour stomach, pains or bloating. I never feel dizzy any more nor ever have a headache. I sleep well since my nerves calmed down, and truly, the difference in my feelings since taking Vendol is almost unbelievable. I surely advise everyone to try this wonderful medicine."

VENDOL contains 12 of Nature's Roots and Herbs combined with mild Alkalines, so it is like taking several different medicines at one time. That is why this Amazing Formula has such a splendid action on suffering people. Some of its ingredients act to relieve excess acidity in the stomach, others give the bowels a good cleansing, still others act as a diuretic to the kidneys, others stimulate the flow of liver bile, others relieve pains of rheumatism when caused by a sluggish bowel condition. Weak, miserable people get such a cleansing and invigorating action from Vendol they soon feel like different men and women.

Visit the Vendol Man in New Castle Drug Co., 31 E. Washington St., and learn all about this great medicine. Hear just how it will help you. Vendol is also sold by the New Castle Drug Co., at 24 N. Mill St., and all other leading druggists everywhere.

Davis, who at the close of the evening sang "The Holy City" by Adams, "Hear the Good News" by Clarence Cameron White, and "Sometimes I Feel Like a Mother's Child," by Hugo Frye. They were supported by the Gospel chorus of this city. Spirituals were revised and sung with such skill that they were asked to repeat them several times.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Davis, of Youngstown, O., and a number of chorus members from the Jerusalem Baptist church, that city, George Bush, Roy Harris, Mrs. Roy Oliver and Mrs. D. Pettygrew of Canton, O., were present and joined in the singing.

Friday night, Dr. W. O. Harper, of Youngstown, will be present. Roy Harris, cousin of the pastor and tenor singer of note, and George Lawrence, bass singer of Youngstown, will be heard. The meetings will close with a mammoth program Sunday night, the Gospel orchestra participating.

Actors Clubs Have Passed

Letting Down Bars To Public Spelled Doom Of Money-Making Resorts

SAM ROSOFF IS PICTURESQUE MAN

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 10.—New York used to have several clubs where actors, authors and sundry creative folk could meet their kind once a week and let themselves go. Such organizations as The Kit Kat, The Sixty and The Mayfair. Late Saturday night affairs that edged into sunup with bing and go.

O. O. McIntyre

They were the generating ground for many romances. Billie Burke's and Flo Ziegfeld's. Billy Seeman and Phyllis Haver. And others. The requirements for admittance were finely drawn. Only those who had achieved in the arts were allowed past the entrance ropes.

The clubs made tidy sums for several sponsors who could work 20 weeks a year and lead the life of Riley the rest of the time with the profits. Today there is no such club and not likely to be any more. Letting down the bars was their undoing.

People in the vernacular, Who Didn't Matter but had plenty of money got over the barriers. And their number increased astonishingly. Soon all the regulars, resenting the change, absented themselves, and when they did the gate crashers, of course, were no longer interested.

One of New York's most picturesque millionaires is the porcine subway builder, Sam Rosoff, whose headline escapades have run the gamut from flash spending to suspicion in a murder mystery. He is the rollicking, brawny and booming personification of America Opportunity. An immigrant boy from Russia who has continued to be the proverbial diamond in the rough, he lives at a smart avenue inn, rides in sartorial grandeur in the park, gives Lucullan dinners and is the most extravagant tipper the night clubs have ever had.

Monotype: There is a species of young lady who comes bobbing into the bars at cocktail time, bright, brave and bewildered. She has the appearance of not having been awake long and there is a slight husk to her voice often associated with gin and cigarets. There is always a group willing gladly to have her join them and exchange brilliant banter for a flock of drinks. She leaves at the dinner hour a bit unsteadily and that is all that is seen of her. Never in cafes at dinner, at the theatre or night clubs. She is the Manhattan Cocktail Girl, and I was told the other evening that many hold responsible positions as secretaries or in sales departments. They like to have their sundown fling solitaire, then go to some quiet tea room for dinner and to bed early.

It is often noted that when a famous maitre d'hotel leaves a favored post he has occupied a long time and goes to some more tempting offer he is almost invariably on way to oblivion. No one knows why, but a head waiter's following will not follow him when he decides to move. Once they lose cast they rarely come back. Today there are a dozen head waiters of ten years ago, whose welcoming smiles, were highly prized but who changed their jobs, and today you may run across them in obscure side street restaurants or, in instances, merely serving as waiters.

Tommy Lyman continues to be the crooning marvel of the night clubs. A sad-eyed, shy and bandbox neat lone wolf, he has been whispering his torchy laments for 15 years. Long before the Vallees and Crosbys were ever heard of. In London, Paris, New York and Palm Beach. Away from the night haunts where he wanders from table to table, he pokes about botanical gardens and is always sending flowers to his friends. Lyman frequently sang for the Duke of Windsor, when, as the Prince of Wales, he was making the incognito rounds of Paris with Jed Kiley.

Thingumbobs: The Duke of Kent is a collector of ornate cuff links . . . John McCormack now retired, has salvaged the biggest fortune out of his voice of any singer . . . Summer Blossom is such a slider around in the editorial chair that he buys four pair of pants with each suit . . . Lowell Thomas likes to arrive for his broadcasting engagements just in the nick of time . . . It makes him forget all thoughts of nervousness . . . Victor Moore is one of America's richest actors, most of his money coming from his savings as a standard vaudeville act . . . Noel Coward reveals Alexander Woollcott in his autobiography as his closest American friend.

Not many graphic writers have been able in several paragraphs to sum up the endless milling and jostling of New York crowds as did a Texan in three words after his first walk up Fifth avenue at the busy home-going hour. As he weaved through the ceaseless flow, he finally stopped for a moment on the curb, glanced up and down, and murmured: "Many a human!"

Flood Reservoirs Are Not Designed For Power Usage

But, It Would Be Possible To Convert Reservoirs Into Power Conveyors

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 10.—None of the proposed 45 flood reservoirs for the Ohio river basin are designed for power use, but approximately half of them could be converted into power projects by raising their walls, Col. R. G. Powell, Cincinnati division army engineer, told the house flood control committee Wednesday.

Use of reservoirs for power production would conflict with flood control, Powell asserted. It would "tend to increase flood peaks in times of flood," he said.

The army engineers have recommended a $17,500,000 levee project for the Metropolitan area of Cincinnati, he revealed. Levees and flood walls at Lumken airport, Millcreek, Covington, Dayton, and Newport in the Cincinnati area have been proposed as a part of the flood wall system for 155 communities in the Ohio valley at a total cost of $190,000,000.

Orlando Caiazza Gets Promotion

From far off Honolulu, Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Caiazza, of 1427 West Washington street, have received word that their son Orlando, who enlisted in the United States Army in October, 1935, has been promoted to a corporal.

The local young man attended Union high and then enlisted. Corporal Caiazza is among the most active men in the company, participating in football and boxing. Recently, he was presented with an emblem for boxing. He is stationed at Scholfield Barracks, Honolulu.

MRS. DORA MARS HAS PLANE RIDE, GRANDSON PILOTS

Mrs. Dora Mars, of New Castle, had the thrill of her first airplane ride this week and at the controls was her grandson, Robert Mars Brown, a well known pilot at the Butler airport. They soared leisurely over the city of Butler and Mrs. Mars, upon the ship's landing, was a confirmed enthusiast for air riding.

Mrs. Mars resides with her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Anderson, on Butler avenue.

Maybe There's A Santa After All, Dear Teacher!

South Dakota Instructor Has Invented Machine He Claims Will Correct 200 Exam Questions In Five Seconds

S. R. Harding, at right, high school instructor of Aberdeen, S. D., claims his electrical "correcto-graph" will correct 200 examination questions in five seconds. He is pictured observing a co-worker feed an exam paper into the machine.

By LEIF JOHNSON
Central Press Correspondent

ABERDEEN, S. D., June 10.—The school teacher, neglected somewhere along the way of humanity's arduous ascent from the Dark Ages, may have her own private industrial revolution after, lo, these many years.

The belief is inspired here by a pedagogic, James Watt, who has risen from the ranks of Aberdeen public school instructors to reveal the result of three years of quiet labor in his home work shop—perfection of a device to correct automatically class examination papers.

He is S. R. Harding, industrial art instructor in the Roosevelt junior high school of Aberdeen.

200 Queries—Five Seconds

His machine, resembling somewhat a mimeograph, will, he avers—backing it up with a swift demonstration—correct 200 examination questions in five seconds.

At the same time, the electrically driven automaton will print the number of questions incorrectly answered on each student's test paper—and on a separate sheet, it indicates the total number of times each query was missed by an entire class.

The "correcto-graph" is simplicity itself in operation.

Modern objective tests are used and the students indicate their choice of several answers by punching circles with their pencils on specially prepared examination sheets.

A key sheet prepared by the teacher controls the action of the corrector. One thousand selector pins—five for each of 200 questions—are brought into contact with the student's answer paper as it is fed into the device. These pins, then, detect incorrect responses to questions and place check marks beside them.

No mark is made if queries are answered correctly.

How It's Done

Electric circuits operate a counter which prints the number incorrect and the number attempted at the top of the student's answer sheet.

It is safe to predict there will be no learned frowns nor mumblings of technocracy at Harding's invention—the machine will correct examination papers 100 times as rapidly as distraught teachers pushing pencils with the old "elbow grease" method.

Harding claims it will correct 10 times more rapidly than the inventor's "Snap-E-Chek" system which has been in use in Aberdeen and other cities for several years. This method involves bunching examination papers on a small rostrum, placing a correctly punched key sheet over the lot, and checking the papers by hand through openings in the key.

PAT ON DECK

A native of Ireland started away on his first trip. Never having seen a railway station he did not know how to get his ticket, but he saw a lady going in and determined to follow her lead. The lady went to the ticket window, and, putting down her money, said, "Mary Hill, single."

Next in line was Pat, who promptly planked down his money and said, "Patrick Murphy, married."

MIRACLES

He—A wagon maker who had been deaf for a number of years picked up a hub and spoke.

She—Yes, and a blind carpenter on the same day reached out for a plane and saw, a deaf sheep rancher went out with his dog and herd; a noseless fisherman caught a barrel of herring and smelt.

NOT GUILTY

With a grinding of brakes the officer pulled up his motor car and shouted to a little boy playing in the field: "I say, Sonny, have you seen an airplane come down anywhere near here?"

"No, sir!" replied the boy, trying to hide his slingshot. "I've only been shooting at a bottle."

SOME STUNT

"Who was the smallest man in history?"

"I'm ignorant, who?"

"The roman soldier who went to sleep on his watch."

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Cherry Street Hill Being Travelled By Many People Daily

Steep Hill Recently Resurfaced Now Used By Many Going To Seventh Ward

Now in first class condition the steep hill beginning at the West Cherry street bridge in the Seventh Ward and ending at the West Pittsburg road, takes a great deal of traffic from the Pittsburgh road to the Mahoningtown district.

In the past this hill has been one of the steepest and most treacherous in this vicinity, rising steeply from the end of the bridge. The road was narrow and badly in need of repairs, it being continually washed out by seasonal rains.

A few weeks ago, the Works Progress Administration, took charge of the situation, and now in place of the former hill, is a smooth hard surfaced road.

Greatly widened, and covered with a black top surface of amesite, the danger of accidents has been lessened and the road is now getting its share of traffic.

Aid Society Meets At Local Residence

Christian Church Group Have Last Meeting Until Fall, On Wednesday

Mrs. Carl Houk was hostess to members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Madison Avenue Christian church Wednesday afternoon as they gathered at her home on the Mt. Jackson road for their monthly meeting.

In the absence of the president, the hostess presided over the business session, after which the remaining hours of the afternoon were spent informally.

Later a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, aided by cohostesses Mrs. E. M. Jones and Mrs. Ada Robinson. This was the last regular meeting until September.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES

Word has been received of the death of McMillen Nelson on Monday afternoon at the Methodist Home for the Aged at Conneautville, Pa. Mr. Nelson was a former resident of this ward and was a member of the Men's Bible class of the Mahoning M. E. church. Funeral services were held on Wednesday at Mercer.

New Control House Being Erected On Railroad Turntable

New Steel Truck Being Built Beneath P. R. R. Turn-Table In Mahoningtown

The man whose daily task takes him round and round, the turntable operator at the Pennsylvania railroad shops in the Seventh Ward district will soon have a new house on his revolving stand. Workmen are now engaged at the table, reinforcing the steel frame and placing a new truck under the center of the steel work.

In a few days, a new steel control house will be erected on the end of the table. At the present time, the table operator is housed in a ramshackle wooden house. From this house, the switchman can direct the turning of railroad engines or cars in nearly 30 different directions.

Other repairs planned for the table include re-building and re-inforcing the frame and track of the pit, about which the table revolves.

The new control house is all of shiny steel, the top half of which is composed entirely of glass windows. Inside the small structure is an operators seat and the table controls.

CHOIR PRACTICE

On Friday evening at 7 o'clock the choir of the Mahoning M. E. church will meet at the church to practice special music for the services on Sunday, June 20. There will be no choir practice on Friday, June 18, because of the annual Sunday school picnic that will be held at Cascade park on that evening.

Auxiliary Members Meet On Wednesday

On Wednesday evening members of the Mabel Wilson Auxiliary gathered at the Eagles hall, South Jefferson street, for their regular bi-weekly meeting.

At the conclusion of the lodge meeting, bingo was played with prizes going to Mrs. William Sapper, Mrs. Tip Earl and Mrs. William Baltes.

The next meeting will be on Wednesday, June 23, and will be in the form of a birthday party.

CONCERT POSTPONED

The WPA band concert that was to have been held at the Liberty street park last evening, was postponed because of rain and will be presented this evening at 8 o'clock.

CHILDREN'S DAY PRACTICE

At 7 o'clock Friday evening there will be a full practice for the Children's Day program that will be presented Sunday morning in the Presbyterian church.

BUILDS 20-ROOM" "BIRD MANSION"

(International News Service)

SOMERVILLE, Mass.—A "Bird Mansion" built by Percy S. Christie, has the birds in this section all atwitter. It is the last word in bird houses.

The "mansion" stands three feet high and is two and one half feet long. It has twenty rooms in its two and a half stories. Each room has a window with green blinds. A railed piazza runs completely around the house for use of the tenants in their leisure time. Dormer windows and two chimneys give the roof a distinctive appearance.

The unique birdhouse will be set set up on the estate of Arthur Christie, brother of the builder, at Grand Lake Stream, Maine.

Gustafson Home From Convention

Chief Pressman Of News Attends Annual Conference In Chicago This Week

C. J. William Gustafson, chief pressman of The News, returned this morning from Chicago, Ill., where he attended the 11th mechanical conference of the American Newspaper Publishers association, which took place in the Drake hotel, Chicago, June 7, 8 and 9.

The conference was attended by the largest number since it was organized and proved extremely interesting and enlightening, showing the newest developments in the mechanical end of getting out a newspaper.

One of the features of the conference was a visit to the Chicago Tribune radio broadcasting station, WGN, on Monday evening, which had been reserved entirely for the visitors, following which they were shown a film showing the process of the manufacture of news print and its handling up to the finished newspaper.

If he does childish things in petty spite, he is despised by all decent people, unless he is a great ruler.

SEEK MINE WATER FOR IRRIGATION

WALSENBURG, Colo.—The possibility of transforming one of Huerfano county's most expensive liabilities into an asset was being studied today by a committee of Young Democrats.

Water is never available in sufficient quantities for irrigating much of the land in this vicinity.

Coal mine operators are caused continual expense by the presence of water underground. Abandoned mines soon fill with water apparently originating in subterranean rivers.

The committee proposes to find out if water could be pumped from coal mines and abandoned mines and used for irrigation purposes.

Then Hutchinson kicked the dog.

Then Mrs. Parish threw a pan of dishwater in Hutchinson's face.

Then Parish knocked Hutchinson down and walked on him with "calked" boots.

Then police jailed Parish on an assault charge.

Registration Is Not Heavy

Only About 2123 County Voters Enroll On First Date

ALL VOTERS MUST BE REGISTERED

Rural voters of Lawrence county set a new low for registration figures on Tuesday, June 8, when out of a total of 23,657 voters in the 58 precincts outside of New Castle, 2123 registered. This represents less than 10 per cent of the eligible voters and the registration was accomplished at a cost of about 60 cents per voter.

For several weeks information has been coming into the court house that the rural voters did not like the personal registration act passed by the General Assembly at the recently closed session. Apparently the information was true as the figures show a woeful lack of interest in registration.

It was thought that Ellwood City would make a comparitively good showing but only about 300 registered there. In one precinct in Ellwood City where there are over 700 voters, 26 registered.

There seems to be some thought among rural voters that they can register any time up to the primary election on September 14. This is not true. The rural voters now have July 6 and August 10 when they can register at their voting places. After that and until September 1st, they can register in the court house. After September 1, any voter in the rural precincts who is not registered WILL NOT VOTE at the primary election.

It is understood that leaders of the major parties are planning to enlist workers in an effort to spur registration on the second and third days. As the matter stands now, New Castle has approximately 22,000 voters registered to vote on September 14. The county today has 2123 registered with two more days to come.

N. Y. A. Softball Team Wins, 12-10

In an exciting game played at Camp Fred L. Rentz, N. Y. A. softball team defeated Townsmen by a 12-10 count, Wednesday.

The game was a feature of the Townsmen-N. Y. A. get-together. The Townsmen rallied in the ninth inning, scoring five runs, just two short of deadlocking the count. Laurell, Bruce and Clark were the heavy stickers for the losers while Trott and Pavia connected for homers for the N. Y. A. clubbers. Townsmen used Boston, Hodge and Dick Thompson on the firing line, with Dan "Flash" Treolar covering a lot of territory around third and short. Cast and Bill Trott hurled for the Rubeis machine.

Coach Rubeis announced today that this evening the N. Y. A. team will be after its fourth straight victory at Dean Park against the John Hensley's Penn-Power club.

Time Draws Near For Y.W.C.A. Camp Season

On June 19 the newly painted Colonial buildings and cement swimming pool of the Y. W. C. A. camp at East Brook will again be placed into use and the 1937 session will be started.

The first week-end will be for the business girls of the local Y. W. C. A. The week following will be for a combined group of Y. W. C. A.'s from several cities in surrounding counties.

On June 27 the local "Y" will again take the camp over and the regular summer season for girls of all ages into the 'teens will be launched. Already nearly all reservations for the entire season have been taken. The camp grounds are in fine shape. The pool will be filled in time for the crowd of business girls on the 19th.

Program Director

A splendid staff of counselors has been secured for the season. Miss Helen Cooper, a physical education teacher from Edgewood, will be program director. She comes highly recommended; has her master's degree from Columbia University, has specialized in camp work and has been very successful in teaching the public school children of Ellwood City and Edgewood.

With her will be the best helpers that could be secured. Miss Matilda Sobesky, R. N., recently head of the children's ward at the Jameson Memorial hospital, will look after the general physical condition of the campers. Her work will be preventive. If any girl becomes ill her parents will be notified.

Swimming Tutors

Mrs. Ann Cain Earl, formerly a physical ed. teacher at Ellwood City will be back at Camp East Brook for her seventh summer, in charge of swimming, and will be assisted by Miss Margaret Griffiths, a West Side school teacher who is also well known to East Brookers. The campers will be classified by the instructors as beginners, intermediate or advanced swimmers, and will have half-hour lesson periods when not more than 20 girls will be in the pool at one time. The water will be chlorinated and tested before each period as well as weekly by county health officers.

Miss Louise Davies of Aiken school will have charge of handicraft for her third year. She is bringing some entirely new suggestions as well as some of the old favorite projects. These will interest all who like to make things with their hands.

Dramatics Coach

Miss Doris Marvin, a Slippery Rock College graduate and former East Brook counselor, will be in charge of dancing and dramatics.

Nature study and hikes will be led by Miss Katie Cooper, another Slippery Rock College alumna, an expert in biology. Miss Mabel Grubb, of Edgewood will be in charge of the music. Miss Marguerite White, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. will be business manager and dietitian, assisted by Mrs. Alice Lewis, and Mrs. Hart, both former East Brook Camp cooks of special fame. Thomas Outhwaite will look after the pool.

Guest Speaker At Downtown Baptist

Alexander Voronaeff Will Be Heard Sunday Night At 7:30 O'clock

ALEXANDER VORONAEFF

Dr. C. H. Heaton announces the appearance of Alexander Voronaeff in an illustrated lecture at the First Baptist church next Sunday night. Mr. Voronaeff was born of Russian parents in this country and at the age of seven accompanied his parents on their return to their native land. While in this country the father was pastor of a Baptist church in New York City, dean of the Baptist Institute and editor of a religious magazine. In 1930 both father and mother were arrested in Russia and, without judge, jury or trial, the father was sent to a concentration camp in Siberia and the mother was cast into prison where she has probably since died. The young man escaped to the land where he was born and is now lecturing in America on "Can It Happen Here?" The meeting will begin at 7:30 Sunday night.

Drinking Is Blamed For High Auto Toll

Alcohol Is Termed '4th Horseman Of Highway In Keystone Editorial

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Alcohol is called "The Fourth Horseman of the Highway" in a scathing editorial attack on drunken driving in the June issue of Keystone Motorist, official publication of the Keystone Automobile Club.

"Drunken driving," asserts the editorial "is a fast-growing highway menace.

"The stupid, senseless but increasingly prevalent habit of drinking while driving is smearing a bloody trail across a Nation aghast at the soaring accident tide.

"Alcohol has joined with speed, recklessness and incompetence to form a new and fearsome quartet of death and destruction. It has become the fourth horseman of the highway.

"Some authorities estimate that approximately seven per cent. of all the country's drivers involved in fatal accidents last year had been 'drinking.' It has also been developed that one out of nine pedestrians killed in 1936 had been 'drinking' prior to the accidents which caused their deaths.

"Conclusive proof that gasoline and booze make a poor safety mixture is gleaned from an analysis of Pennsylvania Accident statistics. The tell-tale figures show that drunken motorist fatalities have increased every year since 1930 and, even more surprisingly, that drunken pedestrian fatalities have outstripped the number of intoxicated motorists killed on the highways of the State.

"More damaging evidence against the drinking-and-driving menace is unearthed by figures showing that early morning motor vehicle crashes continue to exceed by a wide margin the evening rush hour toll, formerly the deadliest period of the day.

"All doubt should be dispelled by the record of operators' license revocations in Pennsylvania during the first four months and 10 days of 1937. Out of a total of 1899 license revocations, 1406 drivers were denied the operating privilege because of intoxication, coupled in many cases with other serious offenses of motor vehicle law.

"Such truly astonishing figures leave little room for argument. The situation is one of utmost gravity, and sooner or later must be faced. The vast majority of motorists who make legitimate use of the highways have a right to expect protection from the irresponsible element.

"The Four Horsemen of the Highway are riding to a new record of death and misery. This year's death toll is freely predicted to reach an all-time high of 50,000. How many thousands will be caused by that most unpardonable of all motor crimes—drunken driving?"

LONDON SEES BRILLIANT MILITARY SPECTACLE

King Reviews Color Trooping

Also Celebrates Belated Birthday Event, Rides Charger At Head Of Troops

GIVEN OVATION ALL ALONG LINE

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 10.—In belated official celebration of his 42nd birthday, King George VI on Wednesday took the leading role in the trooping of the color ceremony, brilliant military spectacle held annually on the historic horse guards parade to honor the sovereign's birth anniversary.

The king's birthday occurred last December 14, a few days after he ascended the throne following the abdication of Edward VIII, but it was then decided to postpone the official celebrations until this date. The ceremony began at 11 a. m. (6 a. m. EDT).

Rides Charger.

Mounted on a well-schooled charger and wearing the scarlet and gold uniform of colonel-in-chief of the guards' brigade, the youthful, grave-faced monarch rode at the head of a glittering cavalcade from Buckingham palace to the parade ground. He was attired in tight-fitting trousers and top boots.

At the ground he inspected picked contingents of his guards regiments and watched the color trooped to the accompaniment of the time honored military formula, afterwards returning at the head of the marching soldiers to the palace, where, as commander-in-chief of the army, he took the salute from the main gateway.

Aided By Relatives.

With him, also in full uniform were his male relatives, including the Dukes of Gloucester and Kent, the Earl of Harewood and Prince Arthur of Connaught. The Maharajas of Ratlam and Nawanagar were in attendance as the king's aides de camp.

The monarch was accorded a tremendous ovation throughout the ceremony. He turned in his saddle and acknowledged the tribute when the crowd sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow".

Behind the royal party rode foreign military attaches of embassies and legations accredited to the court, who included the American military attache in sober khaki.

Correct This Sentence: "He can't be elected to the school board," said the villager, "for he has no education himself."

Whistling Bird Is Bit Overrated

When dispatches from Boston a while back told about a canary that could whistle "Yankee Doodle", a good many canary fanciers were skeptical. That was natural, since every canary owner swears hers is the finest bird alive. Now it appears the Boston bird is not so much. That is he hasn't the field to himself, says the New York Sun.

A member of the Williams college faculty, visiting friends, took notice of their canary. That brought out the story of Will Rogers and Pelo, owned by Mrs. Richard Reynolds of Williamstown. These two canaries live in separate cages and each is able to whistle "Yankee Doodle" and put more real music and feeling in the tune than any human whistler. Also it appears that the famous Boston bird, whose name is Lindy, has a brother owned by a woman living in North Adams, which is not far from Williamstown, who is just as good a whistler as Lindy.

Will Rogers and Pelo were taught their "Yankee Doodle" by another Williamstown woman named Mrs. Walter Goodrich. Whether or not she plans to start a school for canaries is problematical. The Williams college informant said he guessed not.

Statistics show that the unmarried are more likely to go crazy—or maybe it's being that way that keeps them single.

Colorado Fights Traffic In Drug

(International News Service)

DENVER—Denver and Colorado authorities recently launched a vigorous campaign to stop traffic in marihuana, a drug blamed for many crimes of shocking bestiality.

A law making possession of the drug a felony was passed by the legislature. Dr. Roy L. Cleere, secretary of the state board of health, said he had assigned men to trace sources of the weed. He said that women representing the Housewives' League of Colorado had demanded action, alleging that marihuana was being peddled to boys in Denver high schools and even in grade schools.

SUGGESTS USE OF CANNONS IN DUEL

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST.—A new style in duelling was suggested by Charles Peyer, Socialist leader to Dr. John Csoka, a police captain who challenged him.

"I served in the war as an artillerist," wrote Peyer in a sarcastic letter replying to the challenge, "and so the only weapon I know how to handle is a cannon. I am willing to fight a cannon duel with you, from two opposite hills of Buda." Peyer was challenged by the police captain because he criticized him ruthlessly in Parliament, for having dispersed a Socialist meeting. Hungarian Socialists never fight duels.

Graduate Large Class From Senior High Last Night

final question the speaker posed and he answered it in part when he declared, "I trust you will have a real sence of your responsibility to God and to your fellow man."

He urged the class, as he closed to help right the "injustices" that may exist in the nation, but he emphasized that they can be righted in Democratic ways and according to the democratic ideal.

Presiding as the program chairman was William Chip, senior president. He introduced most of the speakers.

The Senior high school orchestra under Prof. J. F. Replogle, opened the program at 8 with "La Reine de Saba" by Gounod. The orchestra was behind the speakers on the stage.

Chip Presides

Young Mr. Chip, the chairman, then introduced Dr. John J. McIlvaine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and a brother-in-law of Dr. Montgomery, for the invocation.

Then came the musical feature of the evening, a trombone solo, "Morceau Symphonique" by Guilmant, played by Thomas Cramer, star trombone player of the Senior high. Accompanying at the piano was Edwin Lewis.

Dr. Montgomery was then introduced by Superintendant Green and after his address eight prizes were presented to honor students.

At the close of the presentations, Dr. Green, in a brief but inspiring talk, told the audience he has the utmost faith in the future of New Castle. He said that any city that guards its educational system in depression times as did New Castle need have little fear for the future.

Dr. Green, according to custom, then formally presented the senior group to President Woolcock of the board of education for their dipomas.

Awards Made

The seniors, in cap and gown and led by their principal, Frank L. Orth, then filed out of the auditorium and around the side hall to the stage to receive the certificates that symbolize the successful completion of a high school course.

The following prizes were presented:

Presentation of prize offered by by Lawrence County Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, by Mrs. H. R. McCulloch—won by Joseph Lloyd.

Presentation of prize offered by the New Castle News for general excellence in English during the high school course by Bart Richards—won by Marjorie Vaughn.

Presentation of prize offered by the Music Club for general excellence in music, by Miss Barbara Schulz—won by Thomas Cramer.

Presentation of prize offered by the Lawrence County Bar Association for outstanding work in Latin during four years, by Attorney R. W. Humphrey—won by Theresa Love, Ellwood City.

Presentation of prize offered by the Sons of American Revolution for outstanding work in chemistry, by William W. McCombs,—won by Joseph Wilk.

Presentation of prize offered by the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute Alumni Association of Pittsburgh for general excellence in mathematics by Mrs. Sarah S. McCune—won by Nicholas Santangelo.

Presentation of prize offered by Bausch and Lomb Optical Company for greatest progress in scientific work, by William Margraf—won by Joseph Lloyd.

Presentation of prize offered by the Woman's Club of New Castle for development in character, citizenship, service to the school, and high ethical standards, by Mrs. Jas. Vogan—won by Janet Hartland and Wesley Hite.

Honor Group Of Graduates

Twenty-five "honor students of the 293 awarded diplomas at last night's commencement were named today by Principal Frank L. Orth. He said the 25, given in the order the high school office listed them, maintained an average of "B" or above in their studies during the entire three-year high school course.

The "honor group," named in the place of a valedictorian and salutatorian, follows:

Catherine F. Genkinger, Helen Louise Villani, Joseph R. Lloyd, Nicholas Victor Santangelo, Joseph Wilk, Paul Onicka, Ruth Lorraine Schmidt, Marjorie Elaine Vaughn, Jean Phillips Short, Estella S. Cukerbaum, Kathryn A. Parfitt, Hunt Davis, Lester Raub, Helen Louise Campbell, Sarah Eleanor Nitsche, Jane Solomon, Margaret C. Harper, Ruth Ann Klivans, Janet Marie Hartland, Michael Nader, Theresa Margaret Love, Sevasti Othites, Eloise Patricia Bishop, Charlotte Ruth Whiteman, and Phillip R. Crane.

That law against foreign loans evidently made Europe mad at us. It says nothing more about 'the great heart of America."

If the safeguards of liberty are violated to punish bad people, nothing remains to insure the liberty of good people.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Roosevelt Has Rest As He Works

Accusation Made That He Has Been Away From Capital Forty Per Cent Of Time

HAS CRITICISED SUPREME COURT

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—President Roosevelt is criticized by opponents of his supreme court reorganization plan for accusing the high tribunal of taking overly long vacations, considering how many vacations he himself takes.

These critical statisticians submit calculations to the effect that the president, from the beginning of his first term up to the beginning of his recent Gulf of Mexico cruise, has been away from the capital 40 per cent of the time.

The comparison between the president's and the supreme court's absences is not, however, a fair one.

ALWAYS ON JOB

Under "F. D.'s" administration the executive authority never has been in what might be called "adjournment" for long "on end".

The administration chief did, indeed, take a trip to Buenos Aires for the latest conference on American international affairs, but certainly that journey was well worth while. It cemented new world friendships in the most admirable fashion. Anyone who finds fault with it belongs in the super-cranky classification, and no mistake.

In general, the Rooseveltian absences from Washington have been over mere little week-ends. Even when he has been fishing, as recently in the Mexican gulf, "F. D." has been within call, and has transacted official business whenever there was any to transact.

A DIFFERENCE

The supreme court is different.

When it adjourns it adjourns. Its membership scatters every whichway. It is a non-existent body for a matter of months. In the meantime, no matter what may transpire, no supreme court is on the job.

The president's task is 24 hours daily, seven days a week.

He can call congress into special session on short notice.

The supreme court is gone all summer. It can, as President Roosevelt intimates, hang up presidential and congressional decisions indefinitely—for a year at a clatter, anyway.

It is not necessarily that the high tribunal is jammed with work.

It can just say:

"Oh, we, the supreme court, are in vacation. Let this stuff wait."

A SWITCH

For years back liberal senators and representatives have "damned" the supreme court.

Now, strangely, many of these same liberals defend it.

Not exactly that they defend it, either—but they defend it against the fashion in which it is attacked.

HABIT?

It is partly the supreme court's fault, too.

The court should not have adjourned, for the season, just when it did.

It should have said:

"Here is important business pending. We should stick here and pass on it, if it takes us all summer."

But no, the court quits on the dot.

It does not have to; it is pure habit.

The Russians have at last found an Eden free of capitalism. They are colonizing the North Pole.

Finger Prints Of Navy Recruits Are Now Taken Here

Finger Prints Of Local Recruits For Navy Checked With Police Records

Another use for fingerprinting has been inaugurated in New Castle. Each applicant for enlistment in the United States Naval service is now fingerprinted at the recruiting office in the federal building. These fingerprints are sent to the local police station for the purpose of checking for possible police records of the applicant.

As persons who have a police record are now enlisted in the government service, the fingerprinting idea was started for the various recruiting stations.

In the past the applicants finger prints were not taken until he was sent to the main station in Pittsburgh. These prints were then sent to Washington, D. C. for file in the government records.

Leo Riley, local recruiting officer for the navy, received a complete printing outfit early this week and has now placed it in use, taking the imprints of persons applying for enlistment in the Navy.

First Graders Picnic At Park

West Side Students Enjoy Picnic At Cascade Park Sponsored By Parents

The parents of the first grade children of West Side school made it possible for sixty little children to have an enjoyable day at Cascade Park Tuesday.

Eagan, Miss Mary Dun-Levey, Mrs. Walter Wilson, Mrs. Henry Kersey, Mrs. George Strehler, Mrs. Loy Fennel, Mrs. Christine Warner, Kathryne Davis, Merle Kelly, Robert Krestel, and Fred Schuster.

Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. R. T. Holder and John Rayall from Winston-Salem, N. C., and Junior Coblentz from Volant.

Narrows Road Is Open To Traffic

Large 12-Inch Water Main Placed Along Narrows To Castle Beach Vicinity

Wednesday afternoon, "The Narnows" road, between Rural avenue and Castle Beach was reopened having been closed to all traffic for several weeks.

While closed, workmen were busily engaged placing a 12-inch water main under the road.

The work which was being done by a construction company, was completed Wednesday morning and the workmen spent the remainder of the day cleaning up the tools and putting the road into shape for travel.

At the end of work, Wednesday, the barriers were taken down, and the road is now open for traffic to and from Castle Beach.

Social Security Grants To States Total $13,599,947

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 10—The social security board today made grants totaling $13,599,947 to 37 states for aid to the aged, and $805,962 to three states for aid to the blind and to dependent children.

New York received the largest amount—$1,499,519 for aid to the aged $682,395 for dependent children and $103,972 for the blind. Other grants for aid to the aged included: Ohio $1,970,667; Pennsylvania, $228,131.

All of the grants are to provide federal funds to the end of the fiscal year June 30, except the New Mexico grants, which were for May, and Pennsylvania's for April and May.

THIS STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA

NEW USE FOR FAIRGROUNDS

Do you know that communities having fairgrounds are giving consideration to use them as trailer camps?

Pennsylvania has many fairgrounds. Many thousands of dollars are invested in these community projects. A fairground is used as a rule one week out of 52 weeks. For 51 weeks in each year an investment of thousands of dollars will have no opportunity of yielding dividends. That is probably why the average fairground organization is in debt. A movement is underway to use these fairgrounds as trailer camps, collecting a daily or weekly rental. It is said that after these trailer camps will become known to the trailer tourists, enough business can be developed to have a concession stand operated for the sale of food and other articles in demand. Concession rentals, it is claimed, would pay for the expense of fairground supervision.

Zionist Rally Is Highly Successful

Much Enthusiasm Engendered In District After Saul Spiro's Address

Increased impetus to the activities of the local Zionist district organization has resulted from the splendid rally of last Sunday evening in Tifereth Israel synagogue when Saul Spiro, of Pittsburgh, who knows the Palestinian situation from having lived there, spoke on "Zionism in 1937."

For over an hour he reviewed Jewish culture in a very scholarly manner and fluent style, with the enthusiasm of the idealist that he is in this work, and at the close stated that under existing conditions in Europe today there is only one hope for the Jewish people—the rebuilding of the homeland, Palestine.

The meeting at the synagogue was opened by the president of the district, Sam Edelstein. Mr. Spiro was introduced right away and his address was most engrossing. He told of the deplorable and desperate situation of three million Jews in Poland and their tragic situation in Germany. He urged a united front, solidarity of Jewish convictions and perpetuation of age old prophetic vision in regard to the return of the Jew to his land. Jewry, he said, is about to witness the most remarkable achievement of a people in the diaspora, the re-uniting of millions of Jews throughout the world working hand in hand to the building of a better social and economic structure in the Holy Land, facilitating friendly relations with Arab neighbors.

Singing of "Hatikvah," Jewish national song, with Rabbi Katz leading, brought the rally to a close.

Many Playgrounds Now Open In City And County Districts

Now that public school bells have rung for the last time until fall, and with summer a little more than a week away, Lawrence county's playgrounds—more than a dozen in number—will be the most popular spots for the more than 10,000 school children.

The sound of the swings, baseballs, softballs, volley balls and tennis balls will resound throughout the county as the youngsters while away the summer amid the healthful sunshine and air. From now until the start of school, the playgrounds will be "tops" as far as the kiddies are concerned.

The program outlined by W. P. A. recreation division, under Lawrence County Leader Frank Leonard, will no doubt suit the most fastidious children. The program will also appeal to parents of children. Thruout the warm weather parents will not have to worry about their children. The children will be under supervision of the W. P. A. recreation, education and N. Y. A. teachers who have been instructed during the past few months in various ways of directing playgrounds, games, nature study, handicrafts and other activities.

Gaston Park.

The popularity of Gaston park, located in what was commonly known as Cunningham woods, will continue. This park has been equipped with swings, teeter-totters, mushball field, volley ball and tennis courts, badminton and horseshoe. There will also be a variety of cultural, educational and social activities.

The individual or group may choose activities that satisfy their longing for experience in nature lore, music, drama, creative arts, craft, hobbies and wholesome social relationship. Gaston park is spacious enough for hikes and picnics.

Rose Bowl.

What was once an unattractive ravine is now one of the most popular play spots of the North Hill—Rose Bowl, located on Park avenue, off North Mercer street. Hundreds of children are already enjoying themselves on sliding boards, teeter-totters, sand boxes, mushball field and tennis court. This playground was made possible only through the efforts of Major Guy Wadlinger, chairman of the Park Commission, W. P. A. Recreation and National Youth Administration.

West Side Park.

The West Side youngsters will seek their enjoyment at West Side park, off Smithfield street. This park has a wonderful setting and is equipped with swings, teeter-totters, bat tennis court, volley ball court and horseshoes. Children need not worry about the sweltering heat that is bound to accompany summer because this park is equipped with a modern wading pool.

Dean Park.

Dean park, off Taylor street, was another former dumping ground but today ranks among the outstanding centers in the county. The park has one of the best softball diamonds in the city and is equipped with sliding boards, teeter-totters, horseshoe, volley ball and bat tennis. This is an ideal play spot.

These are city playgrounds under supervision of W. P. A. recreation division. Other play spots are located at St. Phillip and James, Chartes street, Arthur McGill school on Albert street, Mahoning playground on Cherry street, Ben Franklin playground on Cunningham avenue and Jones playground, Moravia street, rear of the eighth ward fire house. Crawford-Oakridge and the Margaret Henry Home playgrounds are also supervised by W. P. A. recreation division.

In the county, playgrounds are located in Ellwood City at Ewing Park and West Side, Sunny avenue playground in Union township. Other playgrounds are now under construction at Castlewood, Pulaski, Hillsville and Bessemer.

Judging by the program outlined by Mr. Leonard, Lawrence county children have nothing to worry about during the summer when it comes to leisure time.

Here's the Amazing Shampoo Discovery That's Thrilling the Entire Nation

NOT SOAP—NOT OIL

One Washing Brings Radiant Beauty!

It's no wonder women everywhere are raving about this amazing, new liquid shampoo—no wonder one trial converts them for life! For it gives your hair a thrilling new gleam. Yes, actually transforms dull, average-looking hair into a brilliant, glistening halo—with a single application.

Look at the girl above. See what a difference it makes when you use it. So try it soon—see how beautiful your hair really can be.

Just how this unusual shampoo works these miracles is a new scientific secret. It isn't oil, it isn't soap—it isn't anything you've heard of before. Scientists have brought us something brand-new; a shampoo so different that they've patented the process by which it is made. You simply wet your hair, shake on a few drops and instantly you get a glorious, billowy lather. 5 times more lather than soap in hardest water. Lather so neutral—being neither acid nor alkaline—that it is ideal for either oily or dry hair. You rub it briskly into the hair, rinse thoroughly—and you're through.

"What?" you say, "no special rinses; no vinegar, lemon or after-rinses to 'cut' the lather?" No—they are not necessary—just a thorough dousing in clear water! That's the marvelous part. Drene cannot leave unrinsable film on hair to cover up natural lustre as ordinary shampoos do. Your hair is left radiant, silky, smooth. Even dull, bleached or dyed hair becomes more brilliant, more natural looking after a Drene shampoo. More amazing, embarrassing flakes of dandruff disappear with a single washing, leaving the scalp scrupulously clean. Tested and approved by Good Housekeeping Bureau. Women who have used it for months rave about the beauty and health their hair possesses—and have found its thorough cleansing is the quickest, best way to a healthy head of hair. Your scalp can really nourish the hair properly, when cleansed the Drene Way, which simply calls for one or two shampoos a week with Drene, and a few minutes of scalp massage and brushing of the hair. Then it glows with new life and lustre.

Procter & Gamble make this marvel, and you can buy it in various sizes at all drug, department and ten cent stores. Only half a tablespoonful for a perfect shampoo. The most economical and beautifying shampoo you have ever used. Try Drene at once. Buy the large size. It costs less per shampoo. Trade-Mark Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

You ask how fast it is? Just watch this for speed. The keys have a velvet-light touch and they simply fly. I very seldom have to work overtime anymore.

Of course, I'm not much of a mechanic, but I do know that the twenty-three mechanical improvements on this typewriter certainly make my work much easier. I find that it prints lovely, clear carbon copies, and cuts excellent stencils. Yes sir, I'm simply thrilled with my new Remington Noiseless!"

Croton Scholars Present Program

Class That Will Leave School Presents Program For Parents And Pupils

Pupils of the sixth grade class of the Croton avenue school, who are being promoted to Ben Franklin Junior high school, presented a very pleasing program in the auditorium Tuesday.

Before a lattice work completely covered with roses and ferns, a play called "Past, Present and Future," in which all members of the class took part, was given. A large number of parents viewed the play at a special performance for them.

During the play, the Spirit of Prophesy, permitted the audience to witness four scenes of the future lives of these boys and girls.

Scene One: Two housewives recalling the past, especially poems they had learned in Croton school; Betty Knight, Rose Marzola.

Scene Two: Radio City. A special broadcast over a nation-wide hookup of the "Crooning Crotonions": Betty Cooper, Vera Germani, Isabelle Ramsey, Eleanor Sulvester, Francis Hutton, Mary Vitulla, Mary DeRoss, Jean Gianni, Doris Smith, Geraldine Cimini, Jessie Mitcheltree, Susi Averso and Antoinette Padula. Mary DeRosa also gives a tap dance during Scene Two.

In Scene Three a dear old grandmother recalls some songs of long ago, and asks her small grandchild to play the Minuet on her violin. Those taking part in scene include: Edna Canarum, Mary Cimini, James Wilson, Frank Ryal, Donna Davis and Dorothy Wilson.

A closing talk was given by Charles Grimes and the group joined in singing a farewell song. Jean McCreary, Pauline Burgess and Frances Fowler, as the three spirits, portrayed their parts in a splendid manner.

Steel Employes Casting Ballots

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 10—Approximately 6,000 employes of the Pittsburgh Steel company vote at Monessen and Allenport today to determine if the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, affiliated with the C.I.O., shall be their sole bargaining agency.

"This, the second election in the Pittsburgh district to affect steel producing companies, is being conducted by the National Labor Relations board, with Ernest C. Dunbar, Pittsburgh district regional director, in charge.

The first was held at Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation several weeks ago in which 27,000 workers voted a two to one victory for the C.I.O.

Beer and liquor sales are prohibited in parts of Fayette, Washington and Westmoreland counties during the election, the State Liquor Control board announced.

AROUND CITY HALL

With the advent of vandalism in the city parks indications are that city officials may be compelled to takes means to mete out punishment to those who have no respect for the rights of others. Damage to the Gaston Park zoo and theft of birds and animals cannot be condoned. Neither can the damage to trees at Gaston and Jackson Park and destruction of flower beds and the damage to the drinking fountain at the Public Square.

Parking meters is one of the main subjects discussed along streets these days. And it is only natural as the people who use automobiles will pay via parking fees for the machines. The opinion is not one-sided. City officials who voted for the meters have stated that the meters are to be installed on trial and what occurs thereafter will decide whether or not they remain. Traffic authorities of cities in which the meters have been installed claim they have helped to solve the traffic problem. It is also reported that in some cities where the meters were installed it decided later to install additional meters.

Under the provisions of a city ordinance all persons are supposed to be out of city parks by 12 midnight . . . Curfew ordinance was not enforced here this winter. It may, if enforced, prove one way of curbing disorder by boys . . . Lifeboat is kept at the city building ready to be attached to a police cruiser in case of need at any time . . . Recently an inhalator was demonstrated to council in an attempt to sell it to the city for the police department. No action was taken . . . Council has not taken any action to purchase a camera outfit for the police department which was demonstrated several weeks ago. Most up-to-date departments are equipped with good cameras to be used in cases of serious accidents and murders.

Highway Workers Will Meet Friday

Workers from Lawrence, Mercer, Butler, Crawford, Erie, Venango, Warren and Forest counties will be at the meeting and other counties are welcome, it is announced.

MR HARVEY S FIRESTONE CHAIRMAN=
FIRESTONE TIRE & RUBBER COMPANY=
AKRON OHIO=

HAVE TODAY WON THE SILVER ANNIVERSARY 500-MILE INDIANAPOLIS RACE ON FIRESTONE GUM-DIPPED TIRES AT 113.58 MILES PER HOUR BREAKING ALL RECORDS STOP I KNEW I COULD WIN IF MY TIRES COULD STAND THE TERRIFIC HEAT GENERATED AT THESE NEW HIGH SPEEDS STOP WORDS CANNOT EXPRESS MY GRATEFUL APPRECIATION FOR THE MARVELOUS STRENGTH BUILT INTO YOUR TIRES AND THEIR OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCE

WILBUR SHAW.

PROVIDE THE EXTRA MARGIN OF SAFETY ON THE SPEEDWAY OR THE HIGHWAY

THOUSANDS said that tires could not stand the terrific grind. They said cars had been built with much greater speed, turns in the track had been repaved with granite-like surface, yet Wilbur Shaw drove to victory on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires setting a new record of 113.58 miles per hour on one of the hottest days in the history of the Indianapolis track.

Here is stamina — here is dependability — here is performance that is proof of safety. 500 miles over the blistering hot brick track, at temperatures of more than 100°. Speeds of 130, 140, and even 150 were attained on the straightaways. Think of the terrific impact on these tires as the cars roared into the treacherous turns and out again. Tons of force straining, pulling, and twisting inside the tire, yet not one cord loosened, not one tread separated from the cord body — all because Gum-Dipping, the Firestone patented process, successfully counteracted the internal friction and heat that ordinarily destroy tire life.

Why have Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires been on all the winning cars at Indianapolis for the past eighteen years? Why did every one of the thirty-three drivers in this greatest of all racing events choose and buy Firestone Tires? Race drivers make it their business to know how tires are made and they know that Firestone Tires are built with the Firestone patented construction features of Gum-Dipping and Two Extra Layers of Gum-Dipped Cords under the Tread. They know that because of these extra features Firestone Tires run up to 28° cooler and give greatest blowout protection. In fact, these men will not risk their lives or chances of victory on any other tire.

You will never drive your car at these record-breaking speeds, but for the safety of yourself and family you need the safest, strongest and most dependable tires. Come in today. Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires — the safest tires that money can buy.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE ON THIN WORN TIRES

No car owner is going to risk his life and the lives of his family knowingly on thin worn tires. Yet thousands of car owners are taking chances every day.

Choose the tires that champions buy. Race drivers know from experience that their lives depend on the safety of their tires. They will not drive at high speeds on any other than Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. You, too, need the same protection. Come in today and equip your car with the safest tires ever built

DO YOU KNOW

THAT last year highway accidents cost the lives of more than 38,000 men, women and children?

THAT a million more were injured?

THAT more than 40,000 of these deaths and injuries were caused directly by punctures blowouts and skidding due to unsafe tires?

Above is a section cut from a smooth, worn tire, with non-skid protection worn off. Tires in this condition are more liable to punctures, blowouts and skidding.

Above is section cut from a new Firestone Tire. Note the thick non-skid protection against skidding, blowouts and punctures. Come in and see by actual demonstration.

Local Youths Held In Theft Of Autos

Taken Into Custody By Highway Patrolmen Following Collision Tuesday

Two New Castle boys, Bert Elmer Jenkins, aged 16 years, of Croton avenue, and Richard Williams, aged 13, of Quest street, are being held in the Butler county jail, charged with larceny of an automobile.

They were picked up by state highway patrolmen, after an auto had been found wrecked along the Butler-Slippery Rock highway, and it was reported that two boys had been seen leaving the scene.

When the boys were found they showed evidence of having been in a wreck. They denied knowledge of the occurrence, but later are reported to have confessed to taking two machines, one belonging to Jesse Matthews, of Grove City, and the other owned by Eugene Smith, of Butler.

They were given medical treatment at Butler. They confessed they had been driving about for several days and had not slept for two nights. They became drowsy while driving along the highway and lost control of the machine which crashed into a culvert.

Williams, who is under 16 years of age, was placed in the custody of the Butler probation officer, while charges will be made against Jenkins, highway patrolmen stated.

"What is meant," asked a Kansas teacher, "by the 'nector of the gods'"? And the bright boy of the class answered: "It means the gods necked 'er."

Big Airplane Order Placed

Largest Peacetime Airplane Order In History Of Nation , Cost $11,-651,948.10

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The war department today placed the largest peace time airplane order in history, awarding a contract for $11,651,948.10 to the Douglas Aircraft Co., of Santa Monica, Calif.

The contract calls for delivery of 177 two-engine bombardment planes and necessary spare parts.

The size of the huge order brought the government a "considerable price advantage," and marked a departure from the old policy of making frequent but comparative small purchases.

"The new bomber contracted for was recently demonstrated to the government at Wright Field, Dayton, O., and has been found to embody distinct advances in aircraft design and engineering," the department announced. "While capable of carrying a substantially larger useful load than the bombardment airplane with which the air force is now equipped, its efficiency is not thereby diminished and it attains a high speed in excess of 225 miles per hour."

Two of the latest type Wright "cyclone" engines will power each of the big ships.

Asks Police To Capture Vandals

Councilman Joseph D. Alexander has requested Mayor Charles E. McGrath to have city policemen patrol various city parks at different times during the day and night, he stated today. Alexander is considerably incensed over damage which has been done and is determined to have vandals punished if they are caught, which is certain to result, if vandalism continues.

WOMAN PLEADS TO SAVE TREES SHE HAS NEVER SEEN

(International News Service)

BOSTON—"Spare those old familiar trees" was the theme of a plea from a woman in California to the legislature in this state urging it to save the trees of the historic Boston Common from destruction.

The message was sent by Mrs. Fannie Fern Foster Smithton of Los Angeles, who has never seen the trees, to Representative Francis X. Coyne, who recently filed a bill which would authorize underground parking at the Common.

She stated in her letter that parked automobiles had ruined trees in Yosemite National Park by packing down the earth on the roots of the trees.

"It is pitiful," she wrote, "I love trees and should like sometime to see Boston, as my people came from Boston long before I was born and I have often heard my father speak of Boston Common. Please—save the trees."

TEACHERS IN N. Y. NOW REQUIRED TO BE ACE SPELLERS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—The word is the thing nowadays for applicants for teachers' licenses in New York.

The board of examiners, whose duty it is to weed out the unworthies among applicants for teachers' posts here, think a teacher worth his or her salt should be able to pronounce and spell "adscititious" as easily as c-a-t.

Hence, the board has prepared a list of twenty-five "tough ones" which all applicants are expected to be able to define, pronounce and spell.

Among the posers listed are contumelious (all right—what DOES it mean?), tenebrous, daedal, adscititious, bowdlerize, seneschal and apocalyptic.

The word list has aroused a storm of criticism against the board—the girst of which is that the "cultural standard" demanded of would-be teachers is much too high.

Nature arranges things to prevent harm. If he fires those who disagree with him, he is too small to gain much power.

City Eliminates Traffic Deaths

(International News Service)

BAYONNE, N. J., June 8.—With the fifth month of 1937 drawing to a close, this city of more than 90,000 persons is without a traffic death since the new year.

The reason, according to Police Chief Cornelius J. O'Neill, is chiefly the abolition of traffic and strict enforcement of minor traffic regulations.

"I blame red lights for a lot of traffic accidents," commented Chief O'Neill. "We turned off all our lights on January 1936, not for economy, but for efficiency.

"We found reckless driving to be the major cause of traffic deaths and we decided that red lights just had a bad effect on motorists. The motorist sees a light ahead and he steps on the gas to get past it."

Finds Wallet With Counterfeit Bills

(International News Service)

HARTFORD, Conn., June 8.—Lady Luck patted William Dutka on the shoulder and when he returned to see what it was kicked him in the pants.

Dutka's small son found an old wallet containing seventeen $10 bills. Dutka watched the papers for several weeks, saw no advertisements for the wallet or its contents and finally went out to spend it.

His first move was to pay off a $20 debt. His creditor didn't like the looks of the two tens, turned them over to the police who relayed them to the local Secret Service agent.

Result: Mr. Dutka was called in to explain how come he was putting out counterfeit bills. He turned over the remaining 15 bills for examination. They all were counterfeit.

He was released sadder but not particularly poorer.

Declares World Entering Era Of Invisible Rays

Rays Have Now Been Perfected That Permit One To See Through Metal

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH — The world is entering an era of invisible rays, yet to be understood, which will enable man to control his environment to a degree not suspected until recently, according to an interesting theory propounded here by Dr. Gilbert E. Doan, of Lehigh University.

Rays have now been perfected, said Dr. Doan, that permit one to see through metal. Furthermore, by means of infra red rays an airplane pilot was able, he related to photograph Mt. Shasta, 300 miles distant, and beyond the pilot's sight.

Fog and cloud hidden cities can be photographed clearly from airships with the aid of infra-red, said Dr. Doan.

"By this method a photographer almost four miles above Philadelphia can photograph New York and Washington, even though they may be hidden by haze and smoke," he said.

If a sheriff doesn't oppose the lawless, that is cowardice; if the government doesn't, that is good politics.

National Open Starts Today

Stars Of Golfing World Tee-Off Today At Birmingham, Michigan

TONY MANERO IS DEFENDING CHAMP

By M. F. DRUKENBROD
International News Service Sports Writer

OAKLAND HILLS, Birmingham, Mich., June 10.—The national open golf tournament became a wide open event at its opening hour today after a heavy downpour of rain left fairways soggy.

A chilly northeast wind with threat of more rain added to uncertainty of the outcome as figured from the weather stand-point.

Most of the 167 professional and amateurs here for golfdom's classic over the longest course—7,037 yards—in the 40 year history of the event were up early to be on time to watch the opening tee off at 8:15 a. m. A big gallery was expected.

Finals Saturday

The golfers were leaving the first tee in pairs, with the last tee off today at 3:15 p. m., with the probable finish of the first 18 holes just before nightfall. Another 18 holes will be played tomorrow, and then the 60 low scorers will go into the final round of 36 holes Saturday.

Play was on basis of medal scores for the entire 72 holes, so every stroke counted.

Overnight favorite threatening the reign of Tony Manero, last year's winner from Salem, Mass., was Lighthouse Harry Cooper of Chicago, who turned in a 70—two below par—for the lowest score during final practice rounds yesterday. Cooper's 70 looked particularly impressive since he played most of the distance in a heavy downpour of rain.

Firemen Will Play Friday

The Sixth Ward firemen baseball team will go to the West Pittsburg field on Friday night for a postponed game with the West Pittsburgers. Manager Joe Ziegler and Bill Gall will start either Farrell or Huston against the West Pittsburg team.

The Firemen have won five games and lost but three this year according to Mr. Ziegler.

"Spud" Badurik Hurls Second Victory For South Side Board Of Trade Team

With "Spud" Badurik pitching his second victory for the South Side Board of Trade team, the Traders handed the Colored Elks a 6 to 4 defeat last night at Rosena field. This game was a playoff of a recent tie game.

One of the largest crowds of the year witnessed the game. The Board of Trade team was minus such stars as Gennock, Witherow, Mehalic, Huff, McCullough, Lamm, Craycraft, Todd and Gunnett, but came through with a victory.

Badurik was in rare form last night and gave the Elks but few hits. The feature players of the game were Scaglione, Fundoots, Perritta and Fruitt. "Cacky" Gennock will be out of the lineup for several days yet, having been spiked in the recent Lawrence Indies game.

Manager Scaglione wants the following players to report at the Rosena field tonight for the scheduled league game with the Colored Elks: Craycraft, McCullough, Lamm, Gunnett, Witherow, Vincent, Chabak, Perritta, Marshall, Huff, Mehalic, Fundoots, Fruitt, Gennock, Nickie Biondi, "Fiz" Rodenbaugh and "Spud" Badurik.

Here And There In Sports' Land

Harold Vanderbilt's Ranger showed her heels to both Yankee and Rainbow yesterday off Newport, winning easily in the concluding race of the trial series. Gerard Lambert's Yankee and Chandler Hovey's Rainbow, successful cup defender in 1934, were trailing badly as the undefeated Ranger crossed the finish line. Rainbow had been pressing about two minutes behind the winner until three hours after the start. Rainbow's spinnaker blew out like a bursting bubble, ending any possible chance she had to overhaul Ranger. The next trial series will be held June 19.

Hubbell Fails To Check Cards, Dean Is Winner

"Dizzy" Dean Allows Giants But Three Hits In 8 To 1 Victory

PIRATES FOLD UP TO PHILS

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 10.—Thanks to Mr. J. Dizzy Dean, the New York Giants today lead the pennant parade by a slim margin, when they might be much farther in front.

Or maybe Dizzy is less to blame than Carl Hubbell who failed to beat the great man and the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday. The result was that Dean took the opener of a double header from Hubbell and the Giants 8 to 1, and the Giants won the nightcap 3 to 2.

Thrilling drama was imminent at the Polo grounds during those contests, considering that when the teams last met at St. Louis a riot interrupted the business at hand and more of the same was possible yesterday.

Dean In Shape.

However, before 55,000 customers, a record week-day crowd for the Polo grounds, Mr. J. Dizzy simply stuck to his knitting and pitched one of the masterpieces of which he is capable.

After retiring the first 13 batters in order, he was nicked for a hit, then settled down again to making the game as tough as possible for the Giants. Meanwhile Hubbell was being thoroughly lambasted to leave his standing with Dean in their appearances against each other at five wins for Hubbell and four for Mr. J. Dizzy.

To present it very emphatically and flatly, Hubbell was out-pitched, before he finally was lifted for a pinch-hitter after allowing 13 of the 15 hits the Cardinals made. Coffman hurled the last inning for the Giants, who made three hits off Dean and scored that one unearned run.

Medwick Homers.

Medwick hit a homer off Hubbell in the first game to enliven the festivities and the nightcap was won by the Giants on home runs. Mancuso belted one to tie it up at 1-1 in the second and Harry Danning, pinch-hitting, got one in the ninth inning of the nightcap with one on to win the ball game and give the Giants an even break.

Meanwhile, Chicago was beating Brooklyn 8 to 4 to remain in second place and Pittsburgh was doing itself no good in an 8 to 1 defeat by the Phillies, who cashed in on the steady pitching of Claude Passeau.

The Boston Bees climbed ahead of the Dodgers by trimming the Cincinnati Reds twice, 5 to 2 and 5 to 0, Fette pitching the shutout.

In the only American league game Cleveland poled out 14 hits to beat Boston's Red Sox, 12 to 6.

CONN AND YAROSZ TO MEET JUNE 30

PITTSBURGH, June 10.—The Billy Conn-Teddy Yarosz 12-round bout for the state middleweight title was definitely carded today for June 30 at Forbes Field by Promoter Elwood Rigby after Conn's handlers agreed to a reduction in his percentage.

After days of negotiating, Conn's managers agreed to a paring down of his percentage from 30 to 25 percent. Yarosz had already agreed to a reduction from 32½ to 30 per cent. State Athletic Commissioners W. D. McClelland refused to sanction the bout with the original percentages which he claimed were exorbitant.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILI BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 10.—Two of our Davis Cup chaps are not very sweet on each other . . . Gene Mako and Bitsy Grant . . . a couple of years ago Mako borrowed Bitsy's automobile and wrapped it around a telephone pole or something . . . he told Bitsy he was very sorry . . . but it cost the Atlanta Atom $65 . . . Mako, by the way, is a native of Budapest, Hungary, where his father, Bertalan, was a star soccer player . . . Hungary offered him a university scholarship several years ago, but Gene preferred the University of Southern California . . . Don Budge is his best friend.

Don Budge carries a portable talking machine on all trips . . . he celebrated his twenty-second birthday during the Davis Cup matches . . . Budge wields a racket weighing 15½ ounces, the heaviest used by an American player . . . he likes food, and often overeats, but works it off on the courts.

Hearken all ye sinus sufferers! . . . Chick Hafey, outfielder of the Cinci Reds, used to have sinus trouble so serious that whenever he took a breath he turned a back handspring . . . Paul Derringer, pitcher, tipped him off to a St. Louis doctor who rigged up a pair of lamb's wool filters for his nose . . . the filters kept the dust out and, relieved of irritation, the sinus cleared itself . . . the St. Louis doctor? . . . Dr. H. J. Weaver, trainer for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Clem McCarthy will blow-by-blow the Braddock-Louis event June 22 . . . Mr. Jacobs got $50,000 for radio rights for the fight. The tip from Los Angeles is that both Bill Sefton and Earl Meadows will clear that bar at 15 feet in the National Collegiate track and field championships June 18 and 19 at Berkeley, Cal. . . . Eddie Long, host at Jim Braddock's camp, at Grand Beach, Mich., also was greeter for Tommy Gibbons when Tommy trained at the same site in 1924 to meet Carpentier . . . Burleigh Grimes denies his feud with Charley Dressen of the Reds goes back to a "dusting" incident in the days when the Brooklyn manager was pitching . . . Burleigh says he never wasted time dusting off .250 hitters!

The Olympic Association wins some kind of award for that pre-Olympic panic last year just before the team sailed . . . you may remember the announcement that the team was short of funds? . . . well, the association now has a $60,000 surplus . . . Ky Laffoon started playing golf when he was 12 years old . . . it seems that Miami, Okla., was having a lead mining boom at that time and decided to have a golf course.

Roy Weatherly of the Indians is only five-feet-seven but he talks so tall that he has been chased from the bench three times this year by big-eared umpires . . . Al Schacht, baseball clown, gets $250 per appearance in the majors, but works the minors for a bit less than that . . . Work actually is progressing on that million-dollar hockey rink in Cleveland . . . University of Maryland is "expanding" so you can look out for the Old Liners on the gridiron next fall . . . Maryland freshmen didn't lose a heat in five sports, including football.

CROTON MIDGETS WIN

The Croton Midgets defeated the Croton Toppers 10 to 5 with Ross, DeFrank and Micco having doubles. Micco was the star of the game. The losing pitcher was Cook.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—THAT AM'S HERE AGAIN

Everybody likes Kellogg's Rice Krispies. Children and grown-ups agree that there's no crisper, more delicious cereal than these toasted rice bubbles! They are so crisp, they crackle out loud in milk or cream!

Rice Krispies are light, wholesome, and easy to digest. Serve them for breakfast, lunch, and for bedtime snacks (they never interfere with sound sleep). They are extra delicious with fruit or berries added. And they're always ready to serve.

Grocers everywhere sell Rice Krispies. Restaurants, hotels, and dining-cars serve them. A Mother Goose story with colored illustrations — the kind that children love — is printed on the back of every package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Quality guaranteed.

Gaston School Reunion Held

Former Teachers And Pupils Of Gaston Sunday School Gather Wednesday

DAY IS ENJOYED BY LARGE NUMBER

With the spacious lawn of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Magill at 202 Garfield avenue providing a pleasant setting, the annual reunion of the former teachers and pupils of the Gaston Sunday school took place Wednesday.

Th event is held each year in June in memory of John A. McKay, founder of the Sunday school, who was the father of Mrs. Magill.

At noon a bountiful dinner was served under the trees on the lawn, and the hours following the dinner were spent in recalling old days. At 2 o'clock a business meeting took place, called by the president, Mrs. Magill, when the old officers were re-elected for the coming year with the exception of the secretary, Mrs. Maude Whinnery Hamilton, who resigned because of ill health. She is succeeded by Mrs. Rose Alborn.

It was decided to accept the generous offer of Mrs. Magill to have the reunion at her home again next year, and the date of the second Wednesday in June was chosen.

Out of town guests who were present included Mr. and Mrs. John McKay of Cleveland and Miss Bessie Miller of Pittsburgh.

After the business meeting a program of speaking was enjoyed. Mrs. Fred L. Rentz recalled many incidents of the years gone by, and of Mr. and Mrs. McKay. Mrs. Maude Hamilton recalled a reunion held 50 years ago in Wright's Woods. Mrs. Minnie Tindall spoke in praise of Mr. and Mrs. McKay and their work in the Sunday school. Tad Kirker read a poem, and Mrs. Magill read a poem which had been written by her father, J. A. McKay, many years ago. Miss Laura Blucher had one of these poems typed for each member present.

Before adjourning, those present stood in silent tribute in memory of those who have passed away, Mrs. Muse being the only one to die during the past year.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Magill for her fine hospitality on the occasion.

Flag Program At Elks Lodge

A fitting talk on "Our Duty to the Flag" by C. W. Herman Hess and appropriate flag history ceremonies marked the special tribute which members of the New Castle Lodge of Elks paid to the American flag last night. The flag program is observed by all Elks at the lodge sessions preceding Flag Day.

Chair officers participated and Exalted Ruler Edmund B. Connelly presided.

Announcement was made at the close that the Northwest District Elks' Association will meet in Butler on Sunday, June 13, with David Dale, Oil City, president, in charge.

Auditor General Dismisses 23 In Pittsburgh Office

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 10—In the wake of a wide shakeup in the Pittsburgh office of the state auditor general's department 23 Pittsburgh employes, including two former state legislators, today had been dismissed from office.

The two former legislators were Joseph Rectenwald, Democrat and James P. Rooney, Republican. Rectenwald, a clerk, received $1500 and Rooney, an investigator, $2,200.

The dismissals, effective as of June 15, was declared by Auditor General Warren R. Roberts to be "merely a part of a change of administration."

They were not, he said, the result of charges of payroll padding and other fraudulent practices in the inheritance tax division of the Pittsburgh office. These charges are now under investigation by the auditor general.

Humor pays rich rewards, but there's always the danger of being shot before you can explain that you are joking.
